ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I thank my parents, for their loving efforts to raise a family of 4 children, who taught us wisdom of abundance in scarcity, desire with detachment, determination in uncertainties, dedication in purpose, trust in relationships and faith in destiny.

I thank my wife, Prabha who allowed me to work early mornings and late nights to compile this book.

I thank my son, Pratik and daughter, Prachi for their continued love and appreciation.

I thank Mr. John Vijayrangam who developed my interest in reading books.

I thank Mrs. Nupur Lohia for 1st Edition, Mr. Afzal Sorathiya for 3rd Edition and Ms. Shweta Bhoyar for 4th Edition, for their suggestions and painstaking task of editing the entire book.

I thank my all friend and colleagues who have always appreciated my efforts and encouraged me to compile this book.

INTRODUCTION

Dear Readers

I am not a writer. I am a reader. The whole collection is from the books or articles I read since 1992. These are the gems I collected while reading. Many times a single line is so powerful that it can transform the concept and thinking of life for ever. So I started noting quotes and punch lines from these books. I collected moral stories also. I have grouped them under 69 most powerful words. Insight into them can help one in influencing their surroundings in positive manner. These WOW (Words of Wisdom) are to create continuously positive difference around soul.

This book has no logical sequence except that all material is arranged under powerful keywords. There is no rule for reading. One can open any page and read any line. Even if one life can be transformed in a positive way by reading some of the lines of this book, the purpose of my collection is fulfilled.

ACTION

A deed

The State or process of acting or doing.

A movement or a series of movements.

A great pleasure in life is doing what people say you cannot do.

A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step. - Lao-tzu

A man is judged by his deeds, not by his words. - Russina Proverb

A proper action is better than million good intentions....Yet we Judge ourselves by our intentions & judge others by their actions.

A ship in a harbour is safe, but that's not what ships are built for.

Acting on a good idea is better than just having a good idea.
- Robert Half

Action may not always bring happiness , but there is no happiness without action.
- Benjamin Disraeli

All good things comes to the one who goes after them.

Awareness without action is worthless. - Dr. Phil McGraw

Do not fear going forward slowly; fear only standing still.

Do not wait for your ship to come in. Swim out to it.

Doing your best is much more than being the best.

Eighty percentage of success is showing up. - Woody Allen

Even if you are on the right track, you will get run over if you just sit there.
- Will Rogers

Few know what to do, great people do what they know.

From a little spark comes a great fire.

Gardens are not made by sitting in the shade. - Rudyard Kipling

Havens never helps man who will not act. - Sophocles

Having a positive attitude without taking any effort is nothing more than having a wishful dream.

Idea are a dime a dozen -but the men and women who implement them are priceless.
- Mary Kay Ash

If the first button of a shirt is wrongly put, all the rest are surely crooked, so always be careful on your first step.

If you can not fly, run. If you can not run, walk. If you can not walk; crawl. Whatever you do keeping moving towards goal.

If you don't light fires, smoke won't get in your eyes.
- German Proverb

If you want success, you cannot wait for others to show you the way or make you feel comfortable. You have to initiate. Speak up. Take action. Make the first move. Nothing much happens unless we initiate.

It is easy to sit up and take notice. What is difficult is getting up and taking action.
- Al Batt

It is not attempt and fail. The only sin is not to make the attempt.

Just as iron rusts from disuse, so do in-action spoil the intellect.

Keep going when going gets hard.

Let him that would move the world, first move himself. - Socrates

Life is like riding a bicycle. You do not fall off unless you stop paddling.

Mind at rest, rusts.

Most people would rise to great heights if only they put a fraction of their ideas into action. Great ideas die because of inaction.
- Shiv Khera

Nodding the head does not row the boat. - Irish Proverb

Old concept: "Do or Die" New concept: "Do before you die" Latest concept : "Don't die, until you do".

Once you get used to doing nothing, you find that there is no time left to become busy.
- Brahma Kumaris

People judge you by your actions, not by your intentions.

People may doubt what you say, but they will always believe what you do.

Planning is 80% thinking and 20% writing. Then 100% doing.

Practice does not make you perfect but makes permanent whatever you practice.

Rain drops may be little but their continuous fall makes big river to flow. Our small consistent efforts will surely bring about a massive change in life.

Saying something help us believe in it. Doing something helps others believe in us.

Small deeds done are better than great deeds planned.

Some people watch the parade go by; Others march in it. You be the great marshal.

Start by doing what is necessary, then do what is possible and suddenly you are doing the impossible.

The impossible is often the untried. - Jim Goodwin

There are two things - ACTION and the IMPACT behind the action. Even if the action is ordinary, the impact must be positive, productive and creative. - Brahma Kumaris

Those who say, "it can't be done" shouldn't interrupt those doing it.

To reach the port, we must sail some times with wind and sometimes against it - but we must sail.

Translation of thought into action is the only way to success. - Hemant C. Lodha

We introduce our self by visiting card but people know us by our deeds. - Hemant C. Lodha

We judge ourselves by our intentions whereas the world judges us by our action.

What ever you do may seem insignificant to you, but it is a most important that you do it. - Mahatma Gandhi

Willing is not enough we must do.

You can't turn back the clock but you can wind it up again.

- Bonnie Prudden

You don't have to be great to start but you have to start to be great.

You may say you KNOW, but by your actions it is KNOWN.

- Brahma Kumaris

You need to plan for the best, be prepared for the worst, expect surprises but continue to move forward anyway.

Decision to Buy the Shoe

Joseph Henry used to tell a rather strange story about his childhood. His grandmother paid a cobbler to make him a pair of shoes.

The man measured his feet and told Joseph that he could choose between two styles: a rounded toe or a square toe. Little Joseph couldn't decide. It seemed to be such a huge decision; after all, they would become his only pair of shoes for a long time.

The cobbler allowed him to take a couple of days to make up his mind. Day after day, Joseph went into the shop, sometimes three or four times a day! Each time he looked over the cobbler's shoes and tried to decide. The round-toed shoes were more practical, but the square toes looked more fashionable. He continued to procrastinate. He wanted to make up his mind, but he just couldn't decide !

Finally, one day he went into the shop and the cobbler handed him a parcel wrapped in brown paper. His new shoes! He raced home. He tore off the wrapping and found a beautiful pair of leather shoes one with a rounded toe and the other with a square toe!

Moral of the Story:-

Be decisive, before some one else decides on your behalf.

you have a right to perform your prescribed duty but you are not entitled to the fruits of action never consider yourself to be the cause of the results of your activities and never be attached to not doing your duty

- Bhagvad Geeta

ADVICE

Opinion about what could or should be done about a situation or problem.

An opinion as to a decision or course of action.

Advice is least heeded when most needed.

Advice is the only commodity in the market where the supply always exceeds the demand.

Advice is what we ask for when we already know the answer but wish we didn't.

Before you give someone a piece of your mind, make sure you can get by with what is left.

He who follows his own advice must face the consequences.

- Mexican Proverb

It's no use giving good advice unless you have the wisdom to go with it.

- Irish Proverb

Keep your counsel arrested until it's requested. - Mexican Proverb

We give advice by the bucket, but take it by the grain.

No one is more confusing than someone who gives good advice while setting a bad example.

Some people's advice will only add vice to your life.

- Brahma Kumaris

The best way to succeed in life is to act on the advice we give to others.

When People ask for advice, either they want to please or they are in difficulties. Learn to differentiate.

- Hemant C. Lodha

When you Need Advice, Everyone is Ready to Help you But When you Need Help, Everyone is Ready to Advise you.

The Wolves and Sheep

Once upon a time, the wolves sent an embassy to the sheep, desiring that there might be peace between them for the time to come. "Why," they said "should we be for ever waging this deadly strife? Those wicked dogs are the cause of all; they are incessantly barking at us, and provoking us. Send them away, and there will be no longer any obstacle to our eternal friendship and peace." The silly sheep listened, the dogs were dismissed, and the flock, thus deprived of their best protectors, became an easy prey to their treacherous enemy.

Moral of the Story:-

Never trust an enemy's advice but before that, learn to differentiate between foe and friend.

this is one piece of advice to my pondering soul, that emerges silently wise,
to reach it's ultimate goal, that if there be sorrow
let it not affect your tomorrow, for things left undone will make you strive for one and then will you realize, this drive is the spice of life !

-Surbhi Talwar

Duration of Life.

G

Length of time that one has existed.

One of the stages of life.

A man is not old until regrets take the place of dreams.

Age appears to be best in some things. Old wood, best to burn. Old books, best to read. Old rice, best to eat and old friends, best to keep.

Age gives good advice when it is no longer able to give bad example.

- American Proverb

Age is a number, old is in your head.

Age is a question of mind over matter, if you don't mind, it don't matter.

Age is a very high price to pay for maturity.

An age is called Dark, not because the light fails to shine, but because people refuse to see it.

- James A. Michener

An old man T-shirt reads "I am not 60. I am 16 with 44 years of experience."

Cherish all your happy moments : they make a fine cushion for old age.

- Christopher Morley

Every drop of our sweat at young age will reduce ten drops of tears at older age.

Forty is the old age of youth; Fifty is the youth of old.

From middle age on, everything of interest is either illegal, immoral or fattening.

- American Proverb

Growing old is mandatory ... Growing up is optional.

Growing old is more psychological than physical. - Hemant C. Lodha

If you carry your childhood with you... You'll never become older.

In old age it is frustrating that you know all the answers, but nobody bothers to ask you question.

Life is a process of Growing or Ageing. Adding years to life is Ageing
But adding life to Years is Growing.

Live a good & honorable life. When you get older and think back, you'll be able to enjoy it a second time.

Live your life and forget your age.

Middle age is halfway between your age and one hundred.

Old age is like climbing a mountain. The higher you get, the more tired and breathless you become. But your view and vision become much more extensive.

One advantage in growing older is that you can stand for more and fall for less.
- Monta Crane

Some people ,no matter how old they get, never lose their beauty. They merely move it from their faces to their hearts.

The advantage age has over youth is that youth knows nothing about being old, whereas the old know all about being young.

The oldest trees often bear the sweetest fruit. - German Proverb

The secret to staying young is to live honestly, eat slowly, and lie about your age.

Time is a very good healer but a very bad beautician.

We do not stop laughing because we grow old; we grow old because we stop laughing.

We must view young people not as empty bottles to be filled but as candles to be lit.

When a father helps his son to walk, both laugh. When a son helps his father to walk, both cry.

God granted Age to Humans

God created the donkey and said to him: "You will be a donkey. You will work untiringly from sunrise to sunset carrying burdens on your back. You will eat grass, you will have no intelligence and you will live 50 years.

The donkey answered: 'I will be a donkey, but to live 50 years is too much. Give me only 20 years.'" God granted his wish.

God created the dog and said to him: "You will guard the house of man. You will be his best friend. You will eat the scraps that he gives you and you will live 25 years.

The dog answered: 'Sir, to live 25 years is too much, give me only 10 years.' God granted his wish.

God created the monkey and said to him: "You will be a monkey. You will swing from branch to branch doing tricks. You will be amusing and you will live 20 years."

The monkey answered: 'To live 20 years is too much, give me only 10 years.' God granted his wish.

Finally God created man and said to him: 'you will be man, the only rational creature on the face of the earth. You will use your intelligence to become master over all the animals. You will dominate the world and you will live 20 years.'

Man responded: 'Sir, I will be man but to live only 20 years is very little, give me the 30 years that the donkey refused, the 15 years that the dog did not want and the 10 years the monkey refused. God granted man's wish.

And since then, man lives 20 years as a man, he marries and spends 30 years like a donkey, working and carrying all the burdens on his back. Then when his children are gone, he lives 15 years like a dog, taking care of the house and eating whatever is given to him, so that when he is old he can retire and live 10 years like a monkey, going from house to house, from one son or daughter to another, doing tricks to amuse his grandchildren.

Moral of the Story:-

Quality of life is more important than the length of life.

When we have time and strength our understanding about life is not RIGHT and when we have the understanding, Time and strength are not LEFT.

You can only be young once, but you can be immature forever.

You start aging once you stop learning.

Your mid-life crisis starts the day you suddenly realize that you are going to die someday.

You're getting old when you get the same sensation from rocking chair that you once got from a roller coaster.

count your life by smiles not tears count your age by friends not years

ANGER

A tendency to become easily angry or irritable.

An outburst of rage.

Calmness of mind or emotions.

A person who is angry on the right grounds, against the right person, in the right manner, at the right moments and for the right length of time deserves great praise.

A single word spoken at the time of anger is more poisonous which makes us forget the 100 lovable conversations with in a minute.

An outburst is sign of lack of control on your thoughts.

-Hemant C. Lodha

Anger comes alone and takes away everything.

Anger is a condition in which the tongue works faster than the mind.

Anger is a damaging pendulum, once released it swings back to damage the point of origin.

Anger is not inevitable, it is necessary. Its absence means indifference, the most disastrous of human failings.

- Arthur Ponsonby

Anger is one letter short of danger.

Anger is the most easiest & childish way to express the deep love in a good relation.

Anger is the only thing to put off till tomorrow.

Anger is to be enjoyed when we are alone.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Anyone who makes you angry conquers you.

Care Should Be In Heart And Not In Words and Anger Should Be In Words And Not In Heart.

Condition your mind and remain cool under all conditions.

- Brahma Kumaris

Do not ever be angry on your friends because up to the last moment of our life, what pains us is not the words of enemies but silence of friend.

Even iron becomes weak when it is hot. Stay cool and you will always remain strong.

For every minute you remain angry, you give up sixty seconds of peace of mind.
- Ralph Waldo Emerson

Handle your anger by preventing its build-up. - Dale Galloway

Harsh words break no bones but they do break hearts.

He is happy whose circumstances suit his temper, but he is excellent who can suit his temper to any circumstances.

If you lose your head how can you expect to use it.

If your head is wax, don't walk in the sun. - Benjamin Franklin

Let the love be in our heart & not on tongue. Let the anger be on our tongue not in the heart.

Make your anger so expensive so that no one can afford it & make your happiness so cheap that people get it free from you.

Most of the times ANGER can not be justified. - Hemant C. Lodha

My life is in the hands of any fool who makes me lose my temper.

- Joseph Hunter

Root of ANGER is FEAR.

Speak when you're angry, and you'll deliver the best speech you'll ever regret.

Swallowing your angry words now is a lot easier than having to eat them later.

The best cure for anger is delay.

You can't make a fact out of an opinion by raising your voice.
- Winston Churchill

You will never reach your destination if you stop and throw stones at every dog that barks.

You will not be punished FOR your Anger. But, you will be punished BY your Anger.
- Buddha

The Fence

Once there was a little boy who had a bad temper. His father gave him a bag of nails and told him that every time he lost his temper, he must hammer a nail into the back of the fence. The first day the boy had driven 37 nails into the fence.

Over the next few weeks, as he learned to control his anger, the number of nails hammered daily gradually dwindled down. He discovered it was easier to hold his temper than to drive those nails into the fence.

Finally the day came when the boy didn't lose his temper at all. He told his father about it and the father suggested that the boy now pull out one nail for each day that he was able to hold his temper. The days passed and the young boy was finally able to tell his father that all the nails were gone. The father took his son by the hand and led him to the fence.

He said, You have done well, my son, but look at the holes in the fence. The fence will never be the same. When you say things in anger; they leave a scar just like this one. You can put a knife in a man and draw it out. It won't matter how many times you say I'm sorry, the wound is still there.

Moral of the Story :-

A verbal wound is as bad as a physical one.

Anger is a result of fear, A result of heartache and tears.

Anger causes pain, Which in the end will remain.

Hidden in the past, It all came out last.

For waiting to long, Would cause the suffering to go on.

And in the end, Hopefully all the anger will be gone,

And forgiving would be granted.

ARGUMENT

A discussion in which disagreement is expressed

A quarrel; a dispute

A reason or matter for dispute or contention

A narrow mind and a big mouth usually lead to interesting but pointless argument.

An argument comes from a closed mind; discussion comes from an open mind.

An argument is an exchange of ignorance whereas a discussion is an exchange of knowledge.

An argument is an expression of temper whereas discussion is an expression of logic.

An argument is one thing you will never win. If you win, you lose; if you lose, you lose.

An argument throws heat, a discussion throws light.

An argument tries to prove who is right whereas discussion tries to prove what is right.

Any strength overextended becomes a weakness. - Shiv Khara

Arguing with a fool is like wrestling with a pig in mud, after some time you realise that you are getting dirty but he is enjoying.

Argument is for victory and discussion is for progress.

Argument proves there are two fools.

Arguments is nothing more than a battle of egos and results in a yelling contest.

By argument, the resentment stirs up. It is much more powerful to get others to agree with you through your actions, without saying a word.

Discussion add knowledge, argument add enemies.

Discussion entails not only saying the right thing at the right time but also leaving unsaid what need not be said.

Do not raise your voice, improve the quality of your arguments, the results will be better.

In disagreements with loved ones, deal only with the current situation. Don't bring up the past.

The Kites, The Crows and The Fox

The kites and the crows made an agreement among themselves that they should go halves in everything obtained in the forest. One day they saw a fox that had been wounded by hunters lying helpless under a tree, and gathered round it. The crows said, "We will take the upper half of the fox." "Then we will take the lower half," said the kites. The fox laughed at this, and said, "I always thought the kites were superior in creation to the crows; as such they must get the upper half of my body, of which my head, with the brain and other delicate things in it, forms a portion."

"Oh, yes, that is right," said the kites, "we will have that part of the fox," "Not at all," said the crows, "we must have it, as already agreed." Then a war arose between the rival parties, and a great many fell on both sides, and the remaining few escaped with difficulty. The fox continued there for some days, leisurely feeding on the dead kites and crows, and then left the place hale and hearty.

Moral of the Story :-
The weak benefit by the quarrels of the mighty.

we are shaped by our thoughts;
we become what we think.
when the mind is pure, joy follows, like a shadow that never leaves.

-Buddha

Never argue with a fool, because, first he brings you down to his level & then wins by experience.

Never argue with a fool. Someone watching may not be able to tell the difference.

People generally quarrel because they cannot discuss. - Chesterton

Silence is one of the hardest argument to refute. - Josh Billing

The best way to win an argument is to avoid it.

When a person lowers his voice, he wants something; when he raises it, it is a sign he did not get it.

When we fail to control the gap between stimulus and response, it leads to argument. - Hemant C. Lodha

You may win an argument but you will lose a good job, customer, friend or marriage.

Discuss but don't argue.

A state of mind or a feeling

A bad attitude is like flat tyre. You can not reach anywhere until you change it.

A courteous person, who is not very sharp, will go further in life then become a sharp but discourteous person.

A person can change his future by merely changing his attitude.

A person with a positive attitude is like a fruit of all seasons, always welcome.
- Shiv Khera

Ability is what you're capable of doing... Motivation determines what you do... Attitude determines how well you do it.

Always wear the costume of humility and you will receive the love and co-operation of others.
- Brahma Kumaris

Any fact faced by us is not as important as our attitude towards it, for that determines our success or failure.
- N.V. Peale

Be bold when you lose and be calm when you win.

Be grateful but do not expect gratitude.

Be Soft & Cool like water, so you can adjust any where in Life! And Be Tough & Attractive Like Diamond, So that no one can play with your emotions.

Before winning say " If I cannot win who can win?" After winning be humble to say, " If I can win who can not win?"

Coins always make sound, But the Currency Notes are always Silent. So, when your Value Increases, Keep yourself Calm and Silent.

Courtesy is the one passport that will be accepted without question in every land, in every office, in every home, in every heart in the world.

Courtesy is the shortest distance between two people.

For nothing commends itself so well as kindness, courtesy is kindness.

How strange: We look for compromise, when we are wrong, and we look for justice when others are wrong.

How you see things out side depends on how things are inside us. Rs. 100 looks so big when we go to temple and so small when we go to a multiplex.

I always like to walk in the rain so that no one can see my crying.

- Charlie Chaplin

If people around you are trying to pull you down, be proud about it. It only means one thing : you are above them all.

If we take P-ositve A-pproach In N-egative S-ituation, PAINS evaporate.

If you treat people right, they will treat you right- ninety per cent of the time.

- Franklin D Roosevelt

Keep your face to the sunshine and you cannot see the shadows.

- Helen Keller

Kindness is more than deeds. It is an attitude, an expression, a look, a touch. It is anything that lifts another person.

- C. Neil Strait

Kindness is the language which a blind can see and a deaf can hear.

Knowledge, ability, experience, all is of little avail in reaching high success if courtesy is lacking.

Let us not strive to make our presence noticed, just make our absence felt.

Millions of people write love letters everyday but everyone first sends to me. Said "DUST BIN". Perfect example of positive attitude.

Our attitude are the little hinges on which the big doors of our lives swing.
- Dr. Arthur Caliendo

Pain is unavoidable but suffering is optional.

People who admit they are wrong get a lot further than who prove they are right.

People will remember your face for seconds but smile for years.
- Hemant C. Lodha

Positive thinking is the pre-requisite of positive attitude.
- Hemant C. Lodha

Positive attitude create positive results.

Remember, before people buy anything you're offering, they buy your attitude -no matter what you're selling.

Scatter the seeds of courtesy wherever you can. Some are bound to take root and elevate you in the eyes of others.

Self - esteem is the way we feel about ourselves. When we feel good within, our performance goes up, our relationships improve both at home and at work. There is a direct correlation between feeling and behaviour.

Some People enjoy the best that life has to offer, Not because good things come their way, but because they find good in Everything that comes their Way!!

Sometimes we are limited by attitudes more than by opportunities.

Success is more attitude than aptitude.

Time decides who we meet in Life. Our heart decides whom we want in Life. But our behaviour decides who will stay in our Life.

To handle yourself use your head to handle others use your heart.

Two thoughts decide your attitude. What do you think of your self when you have nothing and what do you think of others when you have every thing.

What Makes a Balloon Go Up

There was a man who made a living selling balloons at a fair. He had all colors of balloons, including red, yellow, blue and green. Whenever business was slow, he would release a helium-filled balloon in the air and when the children saw it go up, they all wanted to buy one. They would come up to him, buy a balloon, and his sales would go up again. He continued this process all day. A little boy saw this and asked, "if you release a black balloon, would that also fly?" Moved by the boy's concern, the man replied with empathy, "Son, it is not the color of the balloon, it is what is inside that makes it go up."

Moral of the Story:-

It is what is inside that counts. The thing inside of us that makes us go up is our attitude.

When it rains every bird takes shelter except Eagle. It flies above the clouds.

When you meet a man you judge him by his personality, when he leaves, you judge him by his attitude.

With a BAD attitude we can never have a Positive Day & With a POSITIVE attitude we can never have a Bad Day.

You can complain because roses have thorns or you can rejoice because thorns have roses.

You can often change things if you just change your attitude.

You don't have to be dead to act like angel.

Your ATTITUDE in life almost always determines your ALTITUDE in life.

every effort was sacred to him between the most negative, foolish, and ignorant of people, and the most positive, confident, self assured, there lies a space so small that our Maker regards it with a smile.

-Chin-Ning Chu

BLAME

To find fault with

To hold responsible

To complain

Be proactive. You can always find the reason for failure within yourself. That will guarantee that failure is not repeated. - Hemant C. Lodha

Blaming our fault on our nature does not change nature of our fault.

If you can smile when things go wrong, you have someone in the mind to blame.

Instead of contemplating on others, spend time in self-contemplation and you'll find yourself.

It is often hard to hear the tears that we ourselves have caused.

- Maxims of Marcel

Never blame others to protect yourself, for TIME has a way of revealing the TRUTH.

- Brahma Kumaris

People are not failure until they begin to blame somebody else.

Responsibility is an ability to choose the response. Effective people do not blame circumstances, conditions or other people for the result they got because they take the responsibility for their actions.

To err is human. To blame it on someone else is even more human.

The more you look for defects in others, the more you will become affected. Weakness is contagious.
- Brahma Kumaris

Unsuccessful people blame circumstances , other people or events.

We always feel bad that good thing happen to others but we forget that we are others for someone.

When you blame other's, you give up your power to change.
- Dr. Robert Anthony

Winners may analyse but never rationalize that is a loser's game. Lovers always have a book full of excuses to tell why they could not.

Retiring President

The retiring President of a company after a standard farewell, gave two envelopes marked No. 1 and No. 2 to the incoming President, and said, "Whenever you run into a management crisis you cannot handle by yourself, open envelope No. 1. At the next crisis, open the second one."

A few years later, a major crisis came. The President went into the safe and pulled out the first envelope. It said, "Blame it on your predecessor." A few years later a second crisis came. The President went for the second envelope, and it said, "Prepare two envelopes for your successor. "

Moral of the Story :- It is easy to fail by blaming

All blame is a waste of time.
No matter how much fault you find with another,
And regardless of how much you blame others,
It will not change you.
The only thing blame does is to keep the focus off you when you are looking for external reasons to explain your unhappiness or frustration.
You may succeed in making them feel guilty about something by blaming them, but you won't succeed in changing whatever it is about you that are making you unhappy.

The Jackdaw

Once there was a hungry jackdaw flying in search of food. He came to a field where he saw a party of peacocks eating corn. He also tried to enter the field but there were so many peacocks that he had no courage to do so. He by chance saw some beautiful peacock feathers lying down and picked them up. After fixing them on his feathers he felt as proud as a peacock. He entered the field and began to eat corn along with the other peacocks. At first the peacocks took no notice of him. Soon dark clouds appeared in the sky. At the sight of the black clouds the peacocks began to croak. The jackdaw in the guise of the peacock followed suite. He began to caw. The peacocks found the real identity of the imposter. They fell on him and tore him into pieces. He lay dead on the ground punished for his efforts to deceive others.

The combination of qualities or features that distinguished a person

Moral or ethical strength

A description of a person's attributes, traits, or abilities

A person of sound character would not do wrong even if he knew he would not get caught.

A person with integrity is a one-man army.

A person's character is not only judged by the company he or she keeps but also by the company he or she avoids.

Ability will get us success, character will keep us successful.

Ability without dependability or character is wasted. - Shiv Khera

Character adds to beauty. - Jacqueline Bisset

Character building always remains the prime purpose of education.

Character builds slowly, but it can be torn down with incredible swiftness. - Faith Baldwin

Character cannot be developed in ease and quiet. Only through experience of trial and suffering can the soul be strengthened, ambition inspired, and success achieved. - Helen Keller

Character is not about doing what you have a right to do but doing what's right.

Character is not made of sunshine and roses, like steel it is forged in fire, between the hammer and the anvil.

Character is the foundation of personality; solid, strong and difficult to change. - Hemant C. Lodha

Character is the foundation that helps us confront our false beliefs and courage.

Character is the sum total of a person's value, beliefs and personality. It is combination of integrity, unselfishness, understanding, courage, consideration, loyalty and respect. It is reflected in our behaviour, in our actions.

Character is the foundation upon which all else is built.

Character is what you stand for. Reputation is what you fall for.

A Gift of Fish

Kung-yi Hsiu, Premier of Lu, was fond of fish. Therefore, people in the whole country conscientiously bought fish, which they presented to him. However, Kung-yi would not accept the presents. Against such a step his younger brother remonstrated with him and said: "You like fish, indeed. Why don't you accept the present of fish?" In reply, he said: "It is solely because I like fish that I would not accept the fish they gave me. Indeed, if I accept the fish, I will be placed under an obligation to them, I will some time have to bend the law; I will be dismissed from the premiership. After being dismissed from the premiership, I might not be able to supply myself with fish. On the contrary, if I do not accept the fish from them and am not dismissed from the premiership, however fond of fish, I can always supply myself with fish."

Words of Wisdom

COMMITMENT

A pledge to do.

The State of being bound emotionally or intellectually to a course of action or to another person or persons.

Commitment does not mean sticking to something when a person has no choice. It means sticking in spite of choices.

Commitment is as simple as giving and keeping your word. Doing your best.

Commitment is doing what you said you would do-whether or not you feel like today.

Foundation of commitment is integrity, character and empathy.

If you fail in a commitment, take another look at it and ask yourself, Did I quit too soon?

Integrity is keeping our commitment even if we lose money and wisdom is not make such foolish commitments.

Keeping the commitment shows that you respect your own decision.

Make a commitment and stay committed.

Mostly people are interested rather than committed.

-Ken Blanchard

Not keeping commitments amounts to dishonest behaviour.

Nothing happens without commitment.

Nothing lasting has ever been created without commitment.

Relationships don't last because of passion and love but because of commitment and empathy.

People are like stained-glass windows. They sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in, their true beauty is revealed only if there is light from within.

- Elizabeth Kubler Ross

Team is a group of people who may not be equal in qualification, position or talent but are equal in commitment.

The only job security you have today is your commitment to continuous personal improvement.

Those who are most slow in making a promise are the most faithful in filling it.

Use your imagination to visualise consequences before making a commitment then stick to it.

The Story of Elephant

There was once an elephant who wanted to be a photographer. How his friends would laugh when they heard him talk about it!

"How silly," said some, "there aren't any cameras for elephants!"

"What a waste of time," others would say, "there's nothing to photograph here anyway..."

But the elephant was committed his dream, and, piece by piece, he managed to cobble together some old bits of junk and some spare parts, and ended up with a camera of sorts. With this camera, the elephant had to design practically everything himself, from a button he pressed with the end of his trunk, to a lens made to fit an elephant's eye, to a load of wrought iron used to make a frame so the elephant could attach the camera to his head.

When it was all finished, he could finally get to take his first photos. However, the elephant camera was so enormous and strange-looking that it seemed like some huge ridiculous mask. So many people laughed as he went by that the elephant began to think of abandoning his dream... Even worse, it was beginning to look like those who had said there was nothing to photograph there had been right...

But things worked out differently. The sight of the elephant walking about with the camera on his head was so funny that no one could help but laugh when they saw him. And, using a great deal of good humor, the elephant managed to take some really amusing, incredible pictures of all the animals. In his photos they always looked joyful; even the moody rhino! So the elephant managed to become the official savannah photographer, and animals would come from every direction to have some nice photos taken for their passport to the zoo.

Moral of the Story : -

Success comes as a result of commitment and constant effort.

I am only one,
But still I am one.
I cannot do everything,
But still I can do something.
And because I cannot do everything
I will not refuse to do
The something that I can do.

COURAGE

The state or quality of mind or spirit that enables one to face danger with confidence and resolution.

Be bold and mighty forces will come to your aid.

Being deeply loved by some one gives you strength, while loving someone deeply gives you courage.

Confidence come naturally with success but success comes only to those who are confident.

Confidence does not come when you have all the solutions but it comes when you are ready to face all difficulties.

Courage does not flow from strength and authority, but is a state of mind.

Courage empowers.

Courage is a demonstration of the wisdom to know when to take a firm stand.

Courage is confronting fear.

Courage is not always a lions roar. It is also silence of an ant working and never giving up.

Courage is the knowledge of how to fear, what ought to be feared and how not to fear what ought not to be feared.

Courage is the quality that enables a person to face adversity without succumbing to fear.

Courage is the small voice inside which says, "I can".

Courtesy is as much a mark of a gentleman as courage.

Do not try to fight a lion if you are not one yourself.

- African Proverb

Doing what is right builds one's self -confidence.

Fear is illusory.... It can not live. Courage is eternal..... It can not die.

- Sri Swami Sivananda

Guts is a combination of confidence, courage, conviction, character and consideration.

I have a lot of things to prove to myself. One is that I can live my life fearlessly.

- Oprah Winfrey

If we don't stand for something, we will fall for anything.

- Irene Dunne

If you ask me what I came into this world to do, I will tell you I came to live out loud.

- Emile Zola

It is better to be a lion for a day than a sheep all your life.

It is courage and character that is the deadly combination for success. This is the difference between ordinary and extraordinary. Courage is not the absence of fear but the overcoming of fear. Character without courage is ineffective . To become courageous take in initiative and initiative.

It is easy to be brave from a distance.

- American Proverb

It is firmness of spirit that meets danger without fear.

It is not because things are difficult that we do not dare; it is because we do not dare that they are difficult.

- Seneca

It only takes an ounce of courage to remove a ton of distress.

- Brahma Kumaris

It's important that people know what you stand for . It's equally important that they know what you won't stand for.

- Mary Waldrop

Lack of courage destroys our ability to act.

Man can not discover the new oceans unless he has the courage to lose the sight of the shore.

Men of principles are bold but not all bold people are men of principle.

Promotion

A young executive with poor self-esteem was promoted but he couldn't reconcile himself to his new office and position. There was a knock at his door. To show how important and busy he was, he picked up the phone and then asked the visitor to come in. As the man waited for the executive, the executive kept talking on the phone, nodding and saying, "No problem, I can handle that." After a few minutes he hung up and asked the visitor what he could do for him. The man replied, "Sir, I'm here to connect your phone."

Moral of the story:-

The height of confidence decides the height of position.

No guts, no glory.

Not opposing the wrong is actually supporting the wrong.

Often the test of courage is not to die but to live. - Vittorio Alferi

One individual with a backbone will accomplish more than a hundred men with a wishbone.

Only after giving proper thought to consequences, the courage to act can give desired results. - Hemant C. Lodha

People who lack conviction take the middle of the road (compromise) and guess what happens in the middle of the road? They get run over.

People without conviction do not take a stand. They go along to get along because they lack confidence and courage. Not opposing the wrong is actually supporting the wrong.

Person who risks nothing - does nothing - has nothing - is nothing.

Real courage is when you know you're licked before you begin, but you begin anyway and see it through no matter what. - Harper Lee

Security is mostly a superstition. Avoiding danger is no safer in the long run than outright exposure. Life is either a daring adventure or nothing.

Sooner or later, those who win are those who think they can. - Richard Bach Success involves taking calculated risks . Responsible risk taking is based on knowledge, training, careful study, confidence and competence which give a person the courage to act while facing fear.

The ability to believe in yourself when everyone has given up on you is a sign of courage.

The best way to behave when crisis strikes is to be brave. - Brahma Kumaris

The dangerous people are not ones who openly disagree with you but the ones who disagree and are too cowardly to let you know.

The courage and ability to take decisions puts a person in the driver's seat. If you do not take control of your future, your future is automatically determined by other people's decisions.

The difference between getting somewhere and reaching nowhere in life is courage.

The stories of past courage can teach, they can offer hope, they can provide inspiration . But they cannot supply courage it self. For this each man must look into his own soul.

- John F. Kennedy

To gain, we must risk. To learn to walk, we must risk falling over and getting hurt. To make a dollar, we must risk losing it , and the people who make the most, risk the most.

To know how to refuse is as important as to know how to consent.

Umbrella can not stop rain but it still protects you. Confidence may not bring success but gives courage to face challenges.

You grow up the day you have your first real laugh at yourself.

The Story of Huh Saeng

In a lowly thatched cottage in the Namsan Valley there lived a poor couple, Mr. and Mrs. Huh Saeng. The husband confined himself for seven years and only read books in his cold room.... One day his wife, all in tears, said to him: "Look here, my good man! What is the use of all your book reading? I have spent my youth in washing and sewing for other people and yet I have no spare jacket or skirt to wear and I have had no food to eat during the past three days. I am hungry and cold. I can stand it no more!"

Hearing these words, the middle-aged scholar closed his book... rose to his feet and .. without saying another word, he went out of the door,... Arriving in the heart of the city, he stopped a passing gentleman. "Hello, my friend! Who is the richest man in town?" "Poor countryman! Don't you know Byonssi, the millionaire? His glittering tile-roofed house pierced by twelve gates is just over there." Huh Saeng bent his steps to the rich man's house.

Having entered the big gate, he flung the guest-room door open and addressed the host: "I need 10,000 yang as capital for my commercial business and I want you to lend me the money." "Alright, sir.

Where shall I send the money?" "To the Ansong Market in care of a commission merchant." "Very well, sir. I will draw on Kim, who does the biggest commission business in the Ansong Market. You'll get the money there. "Good-bye, sir."

When Huh Saeng was gone, all the other guests in the room asked Byonssi why he gave so much money to a beggar like stranger whose family name was unknown to him. But the rich man replied with a triumphant face: "Even though he was in ragged clothes, he spoke clearly to the point without betraying shame or inferiority, unlike common people who want to borrow money for a bad debt. Such a man as he is either mad or self-confident in doing business. But judging from his dauntless eyes and booming voice he is a man, an uncommon man with a superhuman brain, worthy of my trust. I know money and I know men. Money often makes a man small, but a man like him makes big money. I am only glad to have helped a big man do big business."

Weed

A nettle stung a boy playing in the fields. He ran home to his mother, telling her that he had but touched that nasty weed, and it had stung him. "It was just your touching it, my boy," said the mother, "that caused it to sting you; the next time you meddle with a nettle, grasp it tightly, and it will do you no hurt." Do boldly what you do at all.

Do boldly what ever you do.

CRITICISM

The act of expressing Disapproval

Opinion about someone's fault or bad qualities

A statement showing dissatisfaction

A successful man is one who can lay firm foundation with the bricks others have thrown at him.

Criticize the performance, not the performer.

Do what you feel in your heart to be right -for you'll be criticized anyway. You'll be damned if you do, and damned if you don't.

Don't make criticising others as a source of your happiness.

Even a hare will bite when it is cornered. - Chinese Proverb

Everyone in your life is going to hurt you sooner or later, you just have to realise who is worth? The Pain or the Person.

When you give a lot of time to the improvement of yourself, there is no time to criticise others. - Brahma Kumaris

If People criticize, hurt, shout at you, don't bother, Just remember "In every game only Audience makes noise, Not the Player".

If people talk behind your back, it means you are few steps ahead of them.

If someone hurts you, do not mind it, because it is a law of nature that the tree that has sweetest fruit bears maximum number of stones.

If you don't want to get involved you have no right to criticise.

Life is BEST for those who accept. Life is DIFFICULT for those who analyse. Life is WORST for those who criticise. Attitude defines our life.

You may Try to Prove that "You are Right " But, Never Attempt to Prove that "Others are Wrong".

Most people remember compliments for a few minutes and insults for years. They become garbage collectors.

Never rebuke a man in such a way as to shame him in public. - Rashi

The best way to convince some people that they are wrong is to let them have their own way.

What ever you do, people will throw either flowers or bricks on you. Flowers are perishable but the bricks can be used life long for building personality. - Hemant C. Lodha

A water bearer and his humbleness

A water bearer had two large pots, each hung on each end of a pole which he carried across his neck. One of the pots had a crack in it, and while the other pot was perfect and always delivered a full portion of water at the end of the long walk from the stream to the master's house, the cracked pot arrived only half full.

For a full two years this went on daily, with the bearer delivering only one and a half pots full of water in his master's house. Of course, the perfect pot was proud of its accomplishments, perfect to the end for which it was made. But the poor cracked pot was ashamed of its own imperfection, and miserable that it was able to accomplish only half of what it had been made to do.

After two years of what it perceived to be a bitter failure, it spoke, to the water bearer one day by the stream. "I am ashamed of myself, and I want to apologize to you."

Why?" asked the bearer. "What are you ashamed of?"

"Because this crack in my side causes water to leak out all the way back to your master's house. Because of my flaws, you have to do all of this work, and you don't get full value from your efforts," the pot said.

The water bearer felt sorry for the old cracked pot, and in his compassion he said, "As we return to the master's house, I want you to notice the beautiful flowers along the path." Indeed, as they went up the hill, the old cracked pot took notice of the sun warming the beautiful wild flowers on the side of the path, and this cheered it some. But at the end of the trail, it still felt bad because it had leaked out half its load, and so again it apologized to the bearer for its failure.

The bearer said to the pot, "Did you notice that there were flowers only on your side of your path, but not on the other pot's side? That's because I have always known about your flaw, and I took advantage of it. I planted flower seeds on your side of the path, and every day while we walk back from the stream, you've watered them. For two years I have been able to pick these beautiful flowers to decorate my master's table. Without you being just the way you are, he would not have this beauty to grace his house."

Moral of the Story : -

Each of us has our own unique flaws. We're all cracked pots. Some of us are old, some not so smart, some fat, some bald, some physically challenged, but it's the cracks and flaws we each have that make our lives together so very interesting and rewarding. You've just got to take each person for what they are, and look for the good in them. There is a lot of good out there. There is a lot of good in you!

Blessed are the flexible, for they shall not be bent out of shape.

Remember to appreciate all the different people in your life!

Your not coming out with me dressed like that she'd say.
Your jeans aren't ironed properly, its embarrassing shed say.
What will think?
I remember the fights wed have over my maths homework when I was nine
She worked in a special needs school and told me that's were I was going to end up.
Then what will she do?
Ill have to quit my job because of the embarrassment she'd say.
You're stupid she'd say.
What will people think?

DECISION

A Choice/Judgement that you make

The best outcome after thinking

A person's judgment is best when he can forget himself, his reputation and can concentrate only on making the right decision.
- Shiv Khera

Be decisive. Usually a wrong decision is better than no decision. The impossible is often the untried.
- Jim Goodwin

For everything we've missed, we gain something; & for everything we gain, we lose something. Either regret or rejoice. Its our choice.

Having choices in life is a privilege, making the right choices is a responsibility.

HALT your decision when you are HUNGRY, ANGRY, LONELY & TIRED.

Lack of decisiveness has caused more failures than lack of intelligence or ability.

Of course, there are times when quitting is the smartest move - when the ship is sinking, it is time to get off.

One who sits between two chairs may easily fall down.

- Russian Proverb

Our decisions decide destiny.

Standing in the middle of the road is very dangerous; you get knocked down by the traffic from both sides.

- Margaret Thatcher

Success does not depend on making important decisions quick, it depends on your quick action on important decisions.

The man who insists on seeing with perfect clearness before he decides, never decides.

- Henri Fredric Amiel

The middle of the road is where the white line is - and that's the worst place to drive.

Where we are today is the result of choices we made yesterday and where we will be tomorrow depends on choices we make today.

Division of 19 Horses

One rich man owned 19 horses when he died. In his last will and statement he had written that upon his death. Half the horses he owned should go to his only son; one fourth to the village temple and one fifth to the faithful servant. The village elders could not stop scratching their heads. How can they give half of the 19 horse to the son? You can not cut up a horse. They puzzled over this dilemma for more than two weeks and then decided to send for a wise man who was living in a neighboring village. The wise man came riding on his horse and asked the villagers if he could be of any help to them. The village elders told him about the rich man's last will and statement which stated that half of the (19) horses must be given to his only son, one fourth must go to the temple and one fifth to the faithful servant. The wise man said he would immediately solve their problems without any delay whatsoever. He had the 19 horses placed in a row standing next to one another.

Then he added his own horse as the 20th horse. Now he went about giving half of the 20 horses i.e. ten horses to the son. One fourth of 20- that is 5 horses were given to the temple committee. One fifth of twenty i.e. 4 horses were given the faithful servant. Ten plus five plus four made 19 horses. The remaining 20th horse was his own which he promptly mounted, spoke a few inspiring words, road back home. The villagers were simply dumbfounded, full of disbelief and filled with admiration. And the parting words of the wise man were inscribed in their hearts and minds, which they greatly cherished in their hearts and minds, which they greatly cherished and passed on to their succeeding generations till today.

Moral of the Story :-

Most of the problems can be solved just by a little commonsense.

what is right, what is wrong
these are our choices as we move along through the days of our short simple lives we make these decisions that decide our plight wither to now?
which way shall we choose another step toward wrong will it cause any problem?

DESIRE

To wish

Intention

A bird in hand, worth two fleeing by.

Contentment is not the fulfilment of what you want, but the realization of how much you already have.

Freedom is not procured by a full enjoyment of what is desired but controlling the desire.

Intelligence is quickness to learn. Ability is the skill to apply what is learned. Competence is the desire to apply what is learned. Desire is the attitude that makes a skillful person competent.

It is important to have control over your desire. Uncontrollable desire makes you seem weak, unworthy, pathetic.

Ignore what a man desires and you ignore the very source of his power.

Origin of sorrow is desire.

- Buddha

Strong desire with total detachment gives tremendous peace of mind.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Self-confidence won't make the mountain smaller, but it will make climbing easier; Do not wish for a lighter load, rather wish for a stronger back.

The desire to do something good doesn't get it done.

The motivation to succeed comes from the burning desire to achieve a purpose. Whatever the mind can conceive and believe, can be achieved. A burning desire is the starting point of all accomplishment.

Tolerance is the highest degree of strength and desire of revenge is the first sign of weakness.

Whatever you put your attention to will grow stronger in your life.

When you get little you want more, When you get more, you desire even more, but when you lose it, you realize LITTLE was enough.

Shelley Mann

A polio victim at the age of five started swimming to regain strength. It was because of her desire to succeed that she went on to become a world record holder at three event and won the gold at the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne. Her name is Shelley Mann.

Moral of the story :- Desire is the seed of destiny.

you are what your deep, driving desire is as your desire is, so is your will as your will is , so is your deed as your deed is, so is your destiny

- Brihadaranyaka Upanishad IV.4.5

according to your life your duties have been prescribed for you follow them and your desire will be naturally fulfilled.

- Bhagvad Geeta

DESTINY

Fate

Things that one cannot change

What happens to you

What is going to happen in future

A thing lost is always valued the most.

Actions decide destiny.

Destiny is not a matter of chance. It is a matter of choice; It is not a thing to be waited for; it is a thing to be achieved.

Destiny is sometime a jewel and some time very cruel. So when it is jewel wear it with all your humility and when it is cruel bear it with all your ability.

Failures believe and accept the predestined future written in their horoscope or stars, that regardless of their effort what ever has to happen. Hence they never put in any effort.

Fate will bring two people together though they are separated by one thousand miles; fate will prevent two people from meeting though they are standing face to face.

- Chinese Proverb

If a person has desire to accomplish something, the direction to know his objective, the dedication to stay focused and the discipline to put in the hard work than destiny is at his door step. - Hemant C. Lodha

If you have desire, discipline, dedication and determination, no one can stop you to get to your destination and destiny.

It is true that we do not know what we have got until we lose it, but it is also true that we do not know what we have been missing until it arrives.

We write our own destiny We become what we do.

- Chiang Kia-Shek

Your beliefs shape your action. Your action create your results and those results, when stretched out over a lifetime, are what's called your destiny.

Sir Alexander Fleming

His name was Fleming, and he was a poor Scottish farmer. One day, while trying to make a living for his family, he heard a cry for help coming from a nearby bog. He dropped his tools and ran to the bog. There, mired to his waist in black muck, was a terrified boy, screaming and struggling to free himself.

Farmer Fleming saved the lad from what could have been a slow and terrifying death. The next day, a fancy carriage pulled up to the Scotsman's sparse surroundings. An elegantly dressed nobleman stepped out and introduced himself as the father of the boy Farmer Fleming had saved.

"I want to repay you," said the nobleman. "You saved my son's life."

"No, I can't accept payment for what I did," the Scottish farmer replied, waving off the offer. At that moment, the farmer's own son came to the door of the family hovel.

"Is that your son?" the nobleman asked.

"Yes," the farmer replied proudly.

"I'll make you a deal. Let me take him and give him a good education. If the lad is anything like his father, he'll grow to a man you can be proud of." And that he did. In time, Farmer Fleming's son graduated from St. Mary Hospital Medical School in London, and went on to become known throughout the world as the noted Sir Alexander Fleming, the discoverer of Penicillin.

Years afterward, the nobleman's son was stricken with pneumonia. What saved him? Penicillin. The name of the nobleman? Lord Randolph Churchill. His son's name? Sir Winston Churchill.

In destiny, we are together.
In fate, we are prisoners.
In reality, we are strangers.
In the universe, we are one.

In destiny, he is not there.
In fate, he is our enemy.
In reality, he is our friend.
In the universe, we are one.

In destiny, I brought us to paradise.
In fate, I brought us to prison.
In reality, we are not there.
In the universe, we are one.

In destiny, this is our home.
In fate, this is our prison.
In reality, I will build this place.
In the universe, we are one.

In destiny, this is my company.
In fate, I lost all I own.
In reality, it is just ordinary life.
In the universe, we are one.

DETERMINATION

DETERMINATION

The act of making or arriving at a decision

Firmness of purpose

A fixed intention or resolution

After failing twice Edmund Hillary challenged Mt. Everest. I will come again to conquer you because as a mountain you can not grow but as a person I can.

All the big achievements are result of dedication with determination.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Big shots are only little shots who have kept on shooting.

- Dale Carnegie

Decision makes start, determination helps finish.

Determination enables elevated thoughts to become practical.

Determination is the termination of journey at destination only.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Great people are ordinary people with extraordinary amount of determination.

Have determination like mirror which never loses it's ability to reflect even if it is broken into thousand pieces.

If one can do it, you too can do it. If none can do it, you must do it.

If you stand for a correct reason be prepared to stand alone like a tree. If you fall on the ground fall as a seed that grows back to fight again.

Impossible does not mean that it is not possible. It actually means that nobody has done yet.

Make the waves your inspiration. Not because they look beautiful but whenever they fall down they come up with a greater speed.

Most of the important things in the world have been accomplished by people who have kept on trying when there seemed to be no hope at all !

Nothing great will be achieved without great men, and men are great only if they are determined to be so.

Nothing is so embarrassing as watching some one do something that you said could not be done.

Only the man who crosses the river at night knows the value of the light of day.

Real leader are ordinary people with extraordinary determination. Some succeed because they are destined to, but most succeed because they are determined to.

The Calibre of a person is not how well he prepares for everything to go Right But How he stands up & moves on after everything has gone Wrong.

The difference between the impossible and the possible lies in a person's determination.

The Difficult is that which can be done immediately; the Impossible that which takes a little longer.

- George Santayana

We must remember that one determined person can make a significant difference, and that a small group of determined people can change the course of history.

- Sonia Johnson

Why give up and lose when you can give all and win.

Abraham Lincoln

Let me share someone's life history with you. This was a man who failed in business at age 22; was defeated in a legislative race age 22; failed again in business at age 26; had a nervous breakdown at age 27; lost a congressional race at age 34; lost a Presidential race at age 47; lost a senatorial race at age 49; and was elected President of the United States at age 52.

Moral of the story :-
Determination and dedication leads to destination.

Andrew Jackson

A story is told that Andrew Jackson's boyhood friend just couldn't understand how he became a famous general and then the President of the United States. They knew of others who had greater talent but who never succeeded. One of the Jackson's friends commented, "Why, Jim Brown, who lived right down the pike from Jackson, was not only smarter but he could throw Andy three times out of four in a wrestling match.

But look where Andy is now." Another friend responded, "How did there happen to be a fourth time? Didn't they usually say three times and out?" "Sure, they were supposed to, but not Andy. He would never admit he was beaten he would never say 'thrown.' Jim Brown would get tired, and on the fourth try Andrew Jackson would throw him and be winner."

Moral of the story:- Determination is the key to succeed

Wilma Rudolph

Wilma Rudolph was born in to a poor home in Tennessee. At age four, she had double pneumonia with scarlet fever, a deadly combination that left her paralyzed with polio. She had to wear braces and the doctor said she would never put her foot on the earth. But her mother encourages her; she told Wilma that with god given ability, persistence and faith she could do anything she wanted. Wilma said, "I want to be the fastest woman on the track on this earth."

At the age of nine, against the advice of the doctors, she removed the brace and took the first step the doctor had said she never would. At the age of 13, she entered her first, and second and third race and came way, way last until a day came when she came in first. At the age of 15 she went to Tennessee State University told him, I want to be the fastest woman on the track on this earth. "Temple said, "with your spirit nobody can stop you and besides, I will help you." The day came when she was at the Olympics and at the Olympics you are matched with the best of the best. Wilma was matched against a woman name Jutta Heine who had never been beaten.

The first event was the 10-meter race. Wilma beat Jutta Heine and won her first gold medal. Second event was the 200-meter race and Wilma beat Juuta a second time and and won her second gold medal.

The third event was the 400-meter relay and she was racing against Jutta one more time. In the relay, the fastest person always runs the last lap and they both anchored their teams.

The first three people ran and changed the baton easily. When it came to Wilma's turn, she dropped the baton, but Wilma saw Jutta shoot up at the other end; she picked the baton, ran like a machine, beat Jutta a third time and won her third gold medal. It became history; that a paralytic woman became the fastest woman on this earth at the 1960 Olympics.

Moral of the story :-
Determination can make the impossible possible.

If your goal is to reach for the moon,
You will be on your way very soon.
Unknown variables can stand in the way,
However don't let them ruin your day.
Getting from point A to point Z,
Is not a bowl of cherries and can be quite scary.
Deal with the wrath.
Then, light up the path,
By grabbing all the stars along the journey,
Without second guessing if you have too many.
When in doubt and deep in contemplation,
Remember, results and goals are achieved with determination.

DETERMINATION

DISCIPLINE

Controlled behavior

Expected to produce a specific character or pattern of behavior that produces moral or mental improvement

Anyone who has accomplished anything worthwhile has never done so without discipline, whether in sport, athletic, academia or business.

By learning to obey, you will know how to command.

- Italian Proverb

Decision help us start, discipline help us finish.

Discipline doesn't break a child's spirit but lack of it breaks a parent's heart.

Discipline is loving firmness. It is direction. It is prevention before a problem arises.

Discipline like surgery, is not painless, but it is worth practicing anyway.

- Shiv Khera

Discipline means doing important thing regularly, every day.

Discipline takes self-control, sacrifice, and avoiding distractions and temptations. it means staying focused. Steam dose not move the engine unless it is confined.

Have the discipline to do little thing you don't like, and you can spend your life doing the big things you do like.

If you love your child, you should discipline your child.

If you want to shine, then be disciplined like Sun and Moon.

- Hemant C. Lodha

One half of life is luck; the other half is discipline - and that's the important half, for without discipline you wouldn't know what to do with your luck.

People without discipline try to do everything, but commit them selves to nothing.

We must all suffer one of the two: the pain of discipline or the pain of regret or disappointment.

- Jim Rohn

DISCIPLINE

Flying a kite

A boy was flying a kite with his father and asked him what kept the kite up. Dad replied, "The string," The boy said, "Dad, it is the string that is holding the kite down." The father asked his son to watch as he broke the string. Guess what happened to the kite? It came down. Isn't that true in life? Sometimes the very things that we think are holding us down are the thing that are helping us fly. That is what discipline is all about.

When I deeply go in search, find disciplined the universe.
Well ordered by natural laws, governed, dynamic, without flaws.
All the plants molecules, elements, atoms, go by rules.
Divinely disciplined, so safe, go on without deforming shape.
Undisciplined a life, we live, disorder is all we give.
Fights, tensions, quarrels, hate, sick at heart, ill fated fate.
Law and order if we bring, to life and be disciplined, safe, smooth, the life will run, deeds will be perfectly done.

DREAMS

An aspiration

A series of images, ideas, emotions, and sensations occurring in the mind

A condition or achievement that is longed for

A successful life is one that is lived through understanding and pursuing one's own path, not chasing the dreams of others.

Ambition is putting a ladder against the sky. - American Proverb

At the end you are exhausted in the body, in the mind & in spirits ... only one thing keeps you going & that is the dream you once had.

Be careful what you set your heart upon, for it will surely be yours.
- James Baldwin

Confidently move towards your dreams in order to live the life you have imagined.
- Henry David Thoreau

Do not pray for dreams equal to your power, pray for powers equal to your dreams.

Dream is not what you see in the sleep, Dreams does not let you sleep.

Dreams are the first step to reach destiny.

Dreams visit us when we are asleep but wake up with commitment each day and make DREAMS come true !

Dreams can not be realised on foundation of bad memories.

Dreams come true; without that possibility, nature would not incite us to have them.

Dreams of yesterday is hope of today and reality of tomorrow.

Every morning you have 2 choices. Continue your sleep with dreams or get up and chase your dreams.

First I dream my painting and than I paint my dream. - Van Gogh

GOD's plan for us are better than our dreams but for that we must have dreams.
- Hemant C. Lodha

If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost, that is where they should be. Now put the foundation under them.

If you can DREAM it, you can DO it. - Walt Disney

If you want your dreams to come true, don't sleep. - Yiddish Proverb

Many who build castles in the air cannot build a hut on earth.
- German Proverb

Never laugh at any one's dreams. People who don't have dreams don't have much.

Night is shorter than day for those who dream but the day is shorter than night who make their dreams come true.

The biggest temptation of life is to convert dreams into reality but the biggest defeat of life comes when we surrender our dreams to reality.

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.
- Eleanor Roosevelt

The mind is so powerful that it can direct all our energy to actualise our dreams.
- Hemant C. Lodha

There is only one thing that can stop you from reaching your dreams. That is if you let other people drag you down to their level.

Those who dream by day are cognizant of many thing, which escape those who dream only in night.

To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream, not only plan, but also believe.

To be successful, experience success long before you achieve it.

We may not achieve everything what we dream but we will not achieve anything unless we dream.

When our heart is in our dreams, no target is too extreme.

Winners make a habit of manufacturing their own positive expectations in advance of the event.

Without leaps of imagination, or dreaming, we lose the excitement of possibilities. Dreaming, after all, is a form of planning.

- Gloria Steinem

Yes, you can be a dreamer and a doer too, if you will remove one word from your vocabulary: Impossible.
- H. Robert Schuller

You control your future, your destiny. What you think about comes about. By recording your dreams and goals on paper you set in motion the process of becoming the person you most want to be. Put your future in good hands.

Stanford University

The President of Harvard made a mistake by prejudging people and it cost him dearly. A lady in a faded gingham dress and her husband, dressed in a homespun threadbare suit, stepped off the train in Boston, and walked timidly without an appointment in to the President's outer office. The secretary could tell in a moment that such backwoods, country hicks had no business at Harvard and probably didn't even deserve to be in Cambridge. She frowned. "We want to see the President," the man said softly. "He'll be busy all day," the secretary snapped. "We'll wait," the lady replied.

For hours, the secretary ignored them, hoping that the couple would finally become discouraged and go away. They didn't. And the secretary grew frustrated and finally decided to disturb the President, even though it was a chore she always regretted to do. "Maybe if they just see you for a few minutes, they'll leave," she told him. And he sighed in exasperation and nodded. Someone of his importance obviously didn't have the time to spend with them, but he detested gingham dresses and homespun suits cluttering up his outer office.

The President, stern-faced with dignity, strutted toward the couple. The lady told him, "We had a son that attended Harvard for one year. He loved Harvard. He was happy here. But about a year ago, he was accidentally killed. And my husband and I would like to erect a memorial to him, somewhere on campus." The President wasn't touched; he was shocked. "Madam," he said gruffly, "We can't put up a statue for every person who attended Harvard and died. If we did, this place would look like a cemetery." "Oh, no," the lady explained quickly, "We don't want to erect a statue. We thought we would like to give a building to Harvard.

The president rolled his eyes. He glanced at the gingham dress and homespun suit, then exclaimed, "A building! Do you have any earthly idea how much a building costs? We have other seven and a half million dollars in the physical plant and Harvard." For a moment the lady was silent. The President was pleased. He could get rid of them now.

And the lady turned to her husband and said quietly, "Is that all it costs to start a University? Why don't we just start our own?" her husband nodded. The president's face wilted in confusion and bewilderment. And Mr. and Mrs. Leland Stanford walked away, traveling to Palo Alto, California, where they established the University that bears their name, a memorial to a son that Harvard no longer cared about.

Moral of the story :-
Dreams are in the eyes not in appearance.

A Dream is a path to the future.
a quite belief in the heart.
a small secret wish nurtured deep in a spirit.
where all great accomplishments start !
A dream is an endless horizon that only a dreamer can see.
a dream is a challenge...

EGO

Sense of our own value and importance

Self-esteem

A short course in human relations

The Six most important words : I admit that I was wrong.
The five most Important words : you did a great job .
The four most important words : What do you think?
The three most important words : Could you please...
The two most important words : Thank you .
The most important word : We .
The least important word : I.

EGO Always Is A Double Edged Sword, Which Cuts Popularity in The Outer World and Purity in The inner World.

EGO is when we do what we should not do and do not do what we should do.

Egoist has lost the invisible eyes of the soul.

- Dr. Mahavir Mal Lodha

Even a big pot full of water can be emptied by a small hole. So a little ego can drain all the nobility of a good heart.

Fools are those who are ready to harm self for the sake of their EGO.

- Hemant C. Lodha

If I am always comparing myself with other human beings, I will either suffer from ego or jealousy.

- Brahma Kumaris

In life we have option of becoming BETTER or BITTER. Difference is I.

Nothing destroys IRON like its own RUST.. LIKEWISE Nothing destroys a Person like His own EGO.

We can have either EGO or FRIENDS.

We cut nails not fingers, cut your ego, not relation.

The ego is a most fragile thing
Whether it's owned by pauper or king
Without it, we do nothing, going nowhere,
You stomped on my ego, you didn't care
My ego fought back, it knew it was right
It knew it could win, by will or by might You

The Tortoise, the Elephant and the Hippopotamus

One day the tortoise met the Elephant, who trumpeted, "Out of my way, you weakling I might step on you!" The tortoise was not afraid and stayed where he was, so that elephant stepped on him, but could not crush him. "Do not boast, Mr. Elephant, I am as strong as you are!" said the tortoise, but the elephant just laughed. So the tortoise asked him to come to his hill the next morning.

The next day, before sunrise, the tortoise ran down the hill to the hippopotamus, who was just on his way back into the water after his nocturnal feeding. "Mr. Hippo! Shall we have a tug-of-war? I bet I'm as strong as you are!" said the tortoise. The hippopotamus laughed at this ridiculous idea, but agreed. The tortoise produced a long rope and told the hippo to hold it in his mouth until the tortoise shouted "Hey!" Then the tortoise ran back up the hill where he found the elephant, who was getting impatient. He gave the elephant the other end of the rope and said, "When I say 'Hey!' pull, and you'll see which of us is the strongest. Then he ran halfway back down the hill, to a place where he couldn't be seen, and shouted. "Hey!" The elephant and the hippopotamus pulled, but neither could budge the other-they were of equal strength. They both agreed that the tortoise was as strong as they were. Never do what others can do for you. The tortoise let others do the work for him while he got the credit.

ZAIREAN FABLE

EMPATHY

Identification with and understanding of another's situation, feelings, and motives

A beautiful relationship does not depend on how good we understand someone, but it depends on how well we avoid misunderstanding.

A person who can explain the meaning of Colour to a BLIND, can explain everything in LIFE.

Always put yourself in other's shoes. If you feel that it hurts you it probably hurts the other person too.

Be silent when one can't understand our feelings & when one can understand our feelings, words are not needed.

Better understand a little than misunderstand a lot.

Empathy is the most comfortable bed you can give to an emotionally upset person.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Expression of face can be read by whole world but the depression of heart can be understood by only special one.

Eyes speak more when heart starts listening to someone silently and life seems to be more exciting when someone start reading your eyes silently.

I say and you listen is good friendship, You say and I listen is better friendship and You don't say and I understand is best friendship.

If you don't understand your friend's silence, you will never understand his words.

In Friendship, Words Can Go Unspoken, Yet Still Be Understood !

It is the heart always that sees, before the eyes can see.

Life is like music; it must be composed by ear, feeling, and instinct, not by rule.

LISTEN and SILENT are two words with same alphabets. Only a true friend can listen you when you are silent.

Maturity is not when we start speaking "BIG things", But actually it is, when we start understanding "small things".

No sound in this world can be louder than silence and if someone can not understand your silence they can never understand your words.

Never explain yourself to anyone. Because person who likes you doesn't need it & the person who dislikes you won't believe it.

Only when we listen, we hear ideas different from our own.

Seek understanding not agreement.

Sympathy is, "I understand how you feel." Empathy is, "I feel how you feel." Empathy is listening with understanding. While listening use your ears, eyes as well as heart.

To empathize is to be bothered enough to take action to alleviate another's pain.

We see from where we stand.

- Haitian Proverb

You never really understand a person until you consider things from his point of view.

A Puppy

A boy went to the pet store to buy a puppy. Four of them were sitting together, priced at $50 each. Then there was one sitting alone in a corner. The boy asked if what was from the same litter, if it was for sale, and why it was sitting alone. The storeowner replied that it was from the same litter; it was a deformed one, and not for sale. The boy asked what the deformity was. The storeowner replied that the puppy was born without a hip socket and had a leg missing. The boy asked, "What will you do with this one?" The reply was it would be put to sleep. The boy asked if he could pick the puppy up and the puppy licked him on the ear. Instantly the boy decided that was the puppy he wanted to buy. The storeowner said, "That is not for sale!" The boy insisted. The storeowner agreed. The boy pulled out $2 from his pocket and ran to get $48 from his mother. As he reached the door the storeowner shouted after him, "I don't understand why you would pay full money for this one when you could buy a good one for the same price." The boy didn't say a word. He just lifted his left trouser leg and he was wearing a brace. The pet storeowner said, "I understand. Go ahead, take this one." This is empathy.

Moral of the story :-

Hear with your ears but listen with your heart.

Every move, every word disturbs my silent pain,
Only released by tears of torrential rain.
Someone hurt you and unknowingly pierced my heart, without remorse, without a sense of shame.

Your pain is our pain to share,
let me steel it from you, leave you with no care,
My faith is strong and my love is true may the strength of my mind send peace and healing Teleported by lightening speed to you.

ENCOURAGEMENT

The act of encouraging

The state of being encouraged

One that encourages

A sincere compliment is one of the most effective tools to teach and motivate other.

Appreciation is like an insurance policy. You have to keep renewing it.

Appreciation is the secret of happiness.

Avoid expectations of appreciation and pain of criticism.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Criticism, like rain, should be gentle enough to nourish one's growth without destroying one's roots.

Don't wait until people do things exactly right before you praise them.

Everyone has an invisible sign hanging from his neck saying Make Me Feel Important! Never forget this message when working with people.

- Mary Kayash

Fortunate is the one who has learned to Admire, but not to envy.

He who praises another enriches himself far more than he does the one praised. To praise is an investment in happiness. The poorest humans being has something to give that the richest could not buy.

- George Matthew Adams

I can live for two months on one good compliment. - Mark Twain

I praise loudly. I blame softly.

If someone listens, or stretches out a hand, or whispers a word of encouragement, or attempts to understand a lonely person, extraordinary things begin to happen.

- Loretta Girzartis

If you cannot appreciate what you have at the moment, how can you value what the future has in store.

- Brahma Kumaris

Insincere praise is worse than no praise at all.

Lack of appreciation turns people off. All people hope for certain rewards in return for their work. If they do not receive them, they become discouraged.

Many men know how to flatter, few men know how to praise.

- Greek Proverb

Words of Wisdom

Most people do not mind working hard. What stops them is when no one seems to appreciate their efforts.

Motive for action is motivation. To motivate means to encourage or inspire.

Praise can raise anyone's altitude and can change anyone's attitude.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Praise in public... discipline in private.

Respect a man, he will do more.

- James Howell

Speak ill of no man, but speak all the good you know of everybody.

- Benjamin Franklin

Unfortunately the best people get the least attention because they spend more time with the people who are having problems than those who are already doing a good job.

Wise men appreciate all men, for they see the good in each and know how hard it is to make anything good.

- Baltasar Gracian

You can't wake a person who is pretending to be asleep.

- American Proverb

Two Brothers

This is a story of two brothers; one was a drug addict and a drunk who frequently beat up his family. The other one was a very successful businessman who was respected in society and had a wonderful family. Some people wanted to find out why two brothers from the same parents, brought up in the same environment, could be so different.

The first one was asked. "How come you do what you do? You are a drug addict, a drunk, and you beat your family. What motivates you?" He said, "My father," They asked, "What about your father?" The reply was, my father was a drug addict, and a drunk and he beat his family. What do you expect me to be? That is what I am. They went to the brother who was doing every thing right and asked him the same question. "How come you are doing everything right? What is your sources of motivation?" And guess what he said? "My father. When I was a little boy , I used to see my dad drunk and doing all the wrong things. I made up my mind that that is not what I wanted to be. "Both were driving their strength and motivation from the same source, but one was using it positively and the other negatively.

Moral of the story:-

One gets motivated by one's own perceptions.

Someday, you will be able to make the world wonder at your skill;
Thus remove all gloomy fog of doubt and continue to climb uphill.
So what if you can't run fastest or swim the sea?
So what if you can't kick a ball or climb a tree?
Let you be yourself, just let yourself be.
There will be a rainbow and a new beginning, you will see.
It doesn't matter if others have criticized or withdrew.
They don't know what it takes to really be you!
There will be many to tell you it can not be done.
Persist with courage and you will conquer one by one.

ENEMY

A Foe

One who feels hatred towards, intends injury to, or opposes the interests of another

Something destructive or injurious in its effects

A bold enemy is better than a cowardly friend. - Scottish Proverb

A certain amount of opposition is help, not a hindrance. Kites rise against the wind, not with it.

A small debt produces a debtor; a large one an enemy.

Always forgive your enemies ... they hate that !

ALWAYS think BETTER of your ENEMIES. AFTER all YOU are the ones who have MADE them !

An Enemy Occupies More Space in our heart and mind than a well wisher. - Hemant C. Lodha

BY admitting a wrong you make a friend. By proving others wrong you make an enemy.

By being frank in Life, you may get lot of enemies, but surely, not fake friends.

Enemies are made not born.

Friends may come and go, but enemies accumulate.

Give 1000 chances to your enemy to become your friend but do not give single chance to your friend to be your enemy.

Great spirits have always encountered violent opposition from mediocre mind. - Albert Einstein

I destroy my enemies when I make them my friend.

Negative thoughts are biggest enemy. - Hemant C. Lodha

Pay attention to your enemies...for they are first to discover your mistakes!

Tact is the knack of making a point without making an enemy.

The best way to get rid of enemies is make them your friends.

- Brahma Kumaris

The more attention you pay an enemy, the stronger you make him.
The opportunity for victory is provided by the enemy.

There are only two persons who can tell you the truth about yourself. An enemy who has lost his temper and a person who loves you the most.

To be successful you need friends and to be very successful you need enemies and competitors.

When there is no enemy within, the enemies outside cannot hurt us.

Your enemies are your best spiritual teachers because their presence provide you the opportunity to enhance and develop tolerance, patience and understanding.

Never wrestle with a pig, you both get dirty and pig likes it.

A Little Bird

A little birds was flying south for the winter. It got so cold it froze up and fell to the ground in a large field. While it was laying there, a cow came by dropped some dung on it. As it lay there in the pile of cow dung, it began to realize how warm it was. The dung was actually thawing him out! He lay there all warm and happy, and soon began to sing for joy. A passing cat heard the little bird singing, and came to investigate. Following the sound, the cat discovered the bird under the pile of cow dung, and promptly dug him out-and then ate him.

Moral of the story :-

Not everyone who drops shit on you is your enemy.
Not everyone who gets you out of shit is your friend.
When you're in deep shit , keep your mouth shut !

I will not play at tug o' war.
I'd rather play at hug o' war.
were everyone hugs
instead of tugs...

- Shel Silverstein

My candle burns at both ends;
It will not last the night;
but, ah, my foes, and, oh, my friends
it gives a lovely light!

- Edna St. Vincent Millay

Great excitement for or interest in a subject or cause

A single drop of enthusiasm can generate noticeable waves.

Death is not the greatest loss in life. The greatest loss is what dies inside us while we are alive.

Enthusiasm and success go hand, but enthusiasm comes first.

Enthusiasm inspires confidence, raises morale, builds loyalty, and is priceless.

Enthusiasm is electricity in the battery. It's the vigour in the air. It's the warmth in the fire. It's the breath in all thing alive. Successful people are enthusiastic about what they do." Good work is never done in cold blood," he says, " heat is needed to forge anything. every great achievement is the story of a flamingheart."

- A. B. Zu Tavern

Enthusiasm, like measles, mumps, and the common cold, is highly contagious.

- Emory Ward

If you are not fired with enthusiasm, you will be fired with enthusiasm.

Life's blows cannot break a person whose spirit is warmed at the fire of enthusiasm.

Like fire generates fire, enthusiasm generate enthusiasm.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Likewise, the person without enthusiasm is trying to move the machinery of life with lukewarm water. Only one thing will happen that person will stall.

Losing the confidence of winning the next time is worst than losing.

Motivation is already lying in us like sticks in matchbox. We need to light it, then we can enlighten the entire universe.

One can feel enthusiasm by the way a person talks, walks or shakes hands. It is a habit that one can acquire and practice. Live while you are alive. Don't die before you are dead.

People often say that motivation doesn't last. Well, neither does bathing-that's why we recommend it Daily.

- Zig Ziglar

Success is the ability to go from one failure to another with no loss of enthusiasm.

Successful people have more energy because they do not waste it in complaining.

Sustained enthusiasm is life's most precious habit, life's healthiest attitude.

The world belongs to the energetic. - Ralph Waldo Emerson

The worst bankrupt in the world is the person who has lost his enthusiasm.

When a group of two hundred executives were asked what makes a person successful eighty percentage listed enthusiasm as the most important quality. More important than skill. More important than training. Even more important than experience.

You cannot push anyone up the ladder unless he is willing to climb himself. - Andrew Carnegie

YOU may have sufficient skill training and experience. Add enthusiasm to those assets and you will be truly unstoppable!

Laying Bricks

Three people were laying bricks and a passerby asked them what they were doing. The first one replied, "Don't you see I am making a living?" The second one said, "Don't you see I am laying bricks?" The third one said with enthusiasm, "I am building a beautiful monument,"

Moral of the story :-

Enthusiasm makes the difference.

May be we can hit it off be a righteous fair of fools and teach this world we'll not be knocked around so let us dance our happy dance sing songs of ever after and maybe when the sun forgets to shine we'll be with ourselves but until then, my foolish friend
I'll see you in my flying ship where we'll forever sail the sands of night and reap the sky of stars !

The natural world in which people, animals and plants live

A seed while growing make no sound however a tree while falling make huge noise. Creation is quite, destruction is noise.

Because we don't think about future generations, they will never forget us. - Henry Tikkanen

Increase our foot prints in history by reducing our carbon foot prints today. - Hemant C. Lodha

Modern technology Owes ecology An apology. - Alan M. Eddison

Nature provides a free lunch, but only if we control our appetites. - William Ruckelshaus

Our environment, the world in which we live and work, is a mirror of our attitudes and expectations.

Thank God men cannot fly, and lay waste the sky as well as the earth. - Henry David Thoreau

The best time to plant a tree was 20 years ago. The second best time is now.

The difference between animals and humans is that animals change themselves for the environment, but humans change the environment for themselves.

The sun, the moon and the stars would have disappeared long ago... had they happened to be within the reach of predatory human hands.

There is sufficiency in the world for Man's Need but Not for Man's Greed.

They kill good trees to put out bad newspapers. - James G. Watt

Trees are the earth's endless effort to speak to the listening heaven. - Rabindranath Tagore

We abuse land because we regard it as a commodity belonging to us. When we see land as a community to which we belong, we may begin to use it with love and respect. - Aldo Leopold

We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors, we borrow it from our children. - American Proverb

You forget that the fruits belong to all and that the land belongs to no one.
- Jean Jacques Rousseau

There was a farmer who grew superior quality and award-winning corn. Each year he entered his corn in the state fair where it won honour and prizes.

One year a newspaper reporter interviewed him and learnt something interesting about how he grew it. The reporter discovered that the farmer shared his seed corn with his neighbours'.

"How can you afford to share your best seed corn with your neighbours when they are entering corn in competition with yours each year?" the reporter asked..

"Why sir, "said the farmer, "didn't you know? The wind picks up pollen from the ripening corn and swirls it from field to field. If my neighbours grow inferior, sub-standard and poor quality corn, cross-pollination will steadily degrade the quality of my corn.

If I am to grow good corn, I must help my neighbours grow good corn."

The farmer gave a superb insight into the connectedness of life. His corn cannot improve unless his neighbour's corn also improves. So it is in the other dimensions!

Those who choose to be at harmony must help their neighbours and colleagues to be at peace. Those who choose to live well must help others to live well.

The value of a life is measured by the lives it touches.

SUCCESS DOES NOT HAPPEN IN ISOLATION. IT IS VERY OFTEN A PARTICIPATIVE AND COLLECTIVE PROCESS

"The world is finite, resources are scarce,
Things are bad and will be worse,
Coal is burned and gas exploded,
Forests out and soil eroded,
Wells are dry and air polluted,
Dust is blowing, trees are uprooted,
Oil is going, ores depleted,
Drains receive what is excreted,
Land is sinking, seas are rising,
Man is far too enterprising,
Fires will rage with man to fan it,
Soon we will have a plundered planet."

K. E Boulding

FAILURE

One that fails

Nonperformance of what is requested or expected

The condition or fact of not achieving the desired end or ends

A failure is a man who has blundered, but is not able to cash in on the experience.

Being good people is similar to being a goal keeper, no matter how many goals you save people remember the one you missed.

Bury your failure and yield fruits of success.

Do not take rest after a success otherwise people will take your previous victory as a luck in your next failure.

Don't get disappointed whenever you fall because only fallen leaves have the power to touch great heights when wind blows.

Don't loose head in success and heart in failure.

Every bad situation will have something positive in it. Even a stopped clock shows correct time twice a day.

Failure is an event Never the person.

Failure is not falling down, but staying down.

Failure is the opportunity to begin again more intelligently.

Failures are milestones of success provided we don't quit.

-Hemant C. Lodha

Failures don't plan to fail. Most of them just fail to plan.

Fear of failure often can be worse than failure itself. When infants learn to walk, they keep falling; but to them it is not failing so they got up.

Formula for failure-"Try to please everybody".

Full stop is not end because we can write new sentence after it. Failure is not the real end but it can be a real beginning.

Good judgement comes from experience and often experience comes from bad judgement.

FAILURE

Good people are good because they have come to wisdom through failure.

Great people are remembered Not because they never made MISTAKES or FAILED But because failure didn't stop their efforts till they SUCCEED.

Have you observed how at any social occasion successful people attract other successful people? Failures get together they will moan, groan and complain.

I don't know the key to success, but the key to failure is trying to please everybody.

I'd rather be a failure at something I love than a success at something I hate.
- George Burns

If there exists no possibility of failure, victory is meaningless.

If we practice poorly, we play poorly. The difference between success and failure is the difference between doing exactly right and almost right.

In great attempts it is glorious even to fail.

Inside of a ring or out, nothing wrong with going down. It's staying down that's wrong.
- Muhammad Ali

It is impossible to fail totally if you dare to try.

It is wise to keep in mind that no success or failure is necessarily fatal.

Many people can be responsible for your success but you are responsible for your failure.
- Swami Vivekanand

No one has travelled the Road of Success without Crossing the Streets of Failure.

No one has travelled the roof of success without crossing the steps of failure.

Preparation means tolerating failure but not accepting it. It means having the courage to face defeat without feeling defeated, being disappointed without discouraged.

Sometimes hurting is needed to make you grow. Failure is needed to make you know. Loss is needed to make you gain. Because some lessons are best when learnt through pain.

Success always hugs you in Private. But failure always Slaps you in the Public.

SUCCESS introduces you to the WORLD. DEFEAT introduces the world to YOU...!!

Success is nothing more a few simple disciplines practised daily and failure is nothing more than a few small errors repeated daily.

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed. - Lloyd Jones

The Single finger which wipes out our tears during our FAILURES is much better than the 10 fingers which come together to clap for our VICTORY..

TRY is a small word but can make big difference. If we try we risk failure but if we do not try we are sure of failure.

When kids fall, it is learning not failing. We all are kids while starting something new.

When you are right no one remembers but when you are wrong no one forgets.

Yesterday's formula for success is often tomorrow's recipe for failure.

The Hare and the Tortoise

Once upon time a tortoise and a hare had an argument about who was faster. They decided to settle the argument with a race. They agreed on a route and started off the race. The hare shot ahead and ran briskly for some time. Then seeing that he was far ahead of the tortoise, he thought he'd sit under a tree for some time and relax before continuing the race. He sat under the tree and soon finished the race, emerging as the undisputed champ. The hare woke up and realized that he'd lost the race.

The moral of the story is that slow and steady wins the race. This is the version of the story that we've all grown up with.

But then recently, someone told me a more interesting version of this story. It continues.

The hare was disappointed at losing the race and he did some soul searching. He realized that he'd lost the race only because he had been overconfident, careless and lax. If he had not taken thing for granted, there's no why the tortoise could have beaten him. So he challenged the tortoise to another race. The tortoise agreed. This time, the hare went all out and ran without stopping from start to finish. He won by several miles.

The moral of the story?

Fast and consistent will always beat the slow and steady. If you have two kinds of people in your organization, one slow, methodical and reliable, and the other fast and still reliable at what he does, the fast and reliable chap will consistently climb the organizational ladder faster than the slow, methodical chap. It's good to be slow and steady; but it's better to be fast and reliable. But the story doesn't end here.

The tortoise did some thinking this time, and realized that there's no way he can beat the hare in a race the way it was currently formatted. He thought for a while, and then challenged the hare to another race, but on a slightly different route. The hare agreed. They started off. In keeping with his self-made commitment to be consistently fast, the hare took off and ran at top speed until he came to a broad river. The finishing line was a couple of kilometers on the other side of the river. The hare sat there wondering what to do. In the meantime the tortoise trundled along, got into the river, swam to the opposite bank, continued walking and finished the race.

The moral of the story?

First identify your core competency and then change the playing field to suit your core competency. In an organization, if you are a good speaker, make sure you create opportunities to give presentation that enable the senior management to notice you. If your strength is analysis, make sure you do some sort of research, make a report and send it upstairs. Working to your strengths will not only get you noticed, but will also create opportunities for growth and advancement.

The story still hasn't ended.

The hare and the tortoise, by this time, had become pretty good friends and they did some thinking together. Both realized that the last race could have been run better. So they decided to do the last race again, but to run as a team this time. They started off, and this time the hare carried the tortoise till the riverbank. There, the tortoise took over and swam across with the hare on his back. On the opposite bank, the hare again carried the tortoise and they reached the finishing line together. They both felt a greater sense of satisfaction than they'd felt earlier.

The moral of the story?

It's good to be individually brilliant and to have strong core competencies; but unless you're able to work in a team and harness each other's core competencies, you'll always perform below par because there will always be situations at which you'll do poorly and someone else does well.

Teamwork is mainly about situational leadership, letting the person with the relevant core competency for a situation take leadership.

There are more lessons to be learnt from his story. Note that neither the hare nor the tortoise gave up after failures. The hare decided to work harder and put in more effort after his failure. The tortoise changed his strategy because he was already working as hard as he could.

In life, when faced with failure, sometimes it is appropriate to work harder and put in more effort. Sometimes it is appropriate to change strategy and try something different. And sometimes it is appropriate to do both.

The hare and the tortoise also learnt another vital lesson. When we stop competing against a rival and instead start competing against the situation, we perform far better.

To sum up, the story of the hare and tortoise teaches us many things. Chief among them are that fast and consistent will always beat slow and steady; work to your competencies; pooling resources and working as a team will.

letting loose a solid free throw you envision the perfect shot but the ball bounces off the rim and failure fires your thoughts if you have a goal in life never quit until it's met though you may fail the first time or miss one shot
the game's not over yet

- J. Allen

Failure doesn't mean you are a failure...
It does mean you haven't succeeded yet.
Failure doesn't mean you have accomplished nothing...
It does mean you have learned something.

Failure doesn't mean you have been a fool...
It does mean you had a lot of faith.

Failure doesn't mean you have been disgraced...
It does mean you were willing to try.

Failure doesn't mean you do not have it...
It does mean you have to do something in a different way.

Failure doesn't mean you are inferior...
It does mean you are not yet perfect.

Failure doesn't mean you wasted your life...
It does mean you have a reason to start afresh.

Failure doesn't mean you should give up...
It does mean you must try harder.

Failure doesn't mean you will never make it...
It does mean it will take a little longer.

Failure doesn't mean God has abandoned you...
It does not mean God has a better idea.

FAITH

Trust

Loyalty to a person or thing

Confident belief in the truth, value, or trustworthiness of a person

Belief that does not rest on logical proof or material evidence

All I have seen teaches me to trust creator for all I have not seen.

Believe in your dreams and they MAY COME TRUE, but believe in yourself and they WILL COME TRUE.

Blessed are they those who have not seen and yet have believed.

- American Proverb

Conscience is the voice of the soul.

- Polish Proverb

Doubt creates the darkest moments in your finest hour. While faith brings the finest moments in your darkest hour.

Faith builds a bridge from this world to the next.

Faith can move mountains of difficulty.

Faith gives strength but doubts lead to weakness.

Faith is knowledge within the heart, beyond the reach of proof.

- Kahil Gibran

FAITH is like a stand by GENERATOR, it gives you POWER when everything FAILS.

Faith is not belief without proof, but trust without reservations.

- Elton Trueblood

Faith is the most powerful of all forces operating in human and when you have it in depth, nothing can pull you down. Nothing.

Faith may overshadow GYANA.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Faith power work wonders.

FAITH : Small word..Supreme implications.

He, who loses money, loses much, he, who loses a friend, loses more, he who loses faith, loses all.

It is not the stone, star or cross, but the faith which shapes the destiny.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Life is a perfect reflection of our beliefs.

Once you believe something is true, whether or not it is, you will then act as if it is.

Positive believing is a lot more than positive thinking. It is having a reason to believe that positive thinking will work. It is an attitude of confidence.

Possibility or impossibility does not depend on the size of our goal but on the size of our faith.

The problem with many is that they have doubt in their faith & have faith in their doubt.

The thing always happens that you believe in and the belief in thing makes it happen.

- Frank Lloyd Wright

They conquer who believe they can.

We need 'STRENGTH' when trying the difficult and we need 'FAITH' when trying the impossible!

Faith is wisdom. Faith is power.
Faith is heart-fragrance.
Faith is the sun-child of the Beyond.

Two Buddies in the Army

There were two childhood buddies who went through school and college and even joined the army together. War broke out and they were fighting in the same unit. One night they were ambushed. Bullets were flying all over and out of the darkness came a voice, "Harry, Please come and help me." "Harry immediately recognized the voice of his childhood buddy, Bill. He asked the captain if he could go. The captain said, "No, I can't let you go, I am already short-handed and I cannot afford to lose one more person. Besides, the way Bill sound he is not going to make it. "Harry kept quiet because the captain had refused earlier. Again and again the voice came. Harry couldn't contain himself any longer and told the captain, "Captain, This is my childhood buddy. I have to go and help." The captain reluctantly let him go. Harry crawled through the darkness and dragged Bill back into the trench. They found that Bill was dead. Now the captain got angry and shouted at Harry, "Don't I tell you he was not going to make it? He is dead, you could have been killed and I could have lost a hand. That was a mistake." Harry replied, "Captain. I did the right thing. When I reached Bill he was still alive and his last words were 'Harry, I knew you would come.'"

School Custodian

As a new school principal, Mr. Mitchell was checking over his school on the first day. Passing the stockroom, he was startled to see the door wide open and teachers bustling in and out, carrying off books and supplies in preparation for the arrival of students the next day. The school where he has been a Principal the previous year had used a checkout system only slightly less elaborate than that at Fort Knox. Cautiously, he asked the school's long time Custodian, "Do you think it's wise to keep the stock room unlocked and to let the teachers take things without requisitions?" The Custodian looked at him gravely. "We trust them with the children, don't we?"

Moral of the story:- Big achievements are not possible if we do not trust small things.

God is the toughest taskmaster I have known.
He tries you through and through.
When you find your faith Or your body is failing you
And you're sinking, He comes to your assistance
He proves to you that you must not lose your faith...
I cannot recall a single instance when
At the eleventh hour, he has forsaken me.

- Mahatma Gandhi

faith the bird that feels the light and sings when the dawn is still dark

- Rabindranath Tagore

FAMILY

Relatives living together for happiness

A loving atmosphere in home is the foundation for your life.

All that I am or hope to be I owe to my mother. - Abraham Lincoln

Children obey parents, but wherever parental values are weak, the parents obey their children.

Even a poor mother can feed her seven children but seven rich children can not feed their mother in old days. - Hemant C. Lodha

Every girl may not be queen to her husband...But she is always a princess to her father.

Leave some thing for parents, never leave parents for some thing. In tough time something will leave you but parents will be always with you.

Life gives us number of beautiful persons..But only parents give us beautiful life.

Our loved ones are like the parts of our body, we give attention when it pains.

Parents who are afraid to put their foot down usually have children who step on their toes.

Since God could not be everywhere, he created mothers.

- Jewish Proverb

Some people find it easier to buy things for their children and spouse to compensate for their absence.

The best things you can give children, next to good habits, are good memories. - Syney J. Harris

To be in children's memories tomorrow, we have to be in their lives today.

Undisciplined children when young may disturb your sleep but when grown up they can disturb your life.

We cannot prepare the future for our youth but we can certainly prepare our youth for the future.

What can we do to promote world peace? Mother Teresa replied "Go home and love your family."

What we leave 'IN' our children, is more important than what we leave 'FOR' our children.

Story of a Wooden Bowl

A frail old man went to live with his son, daughter-in-law, and four-year grandson. The old man's hands trembled, his eyesight was blurred, and his steps faltered. The family ate together at the table. But the elderly grandfather's shaky hands and failing sight made eating difficult. Peas rolled off his spoon onto the floor. When he grasped the glass, milk spilled on the tablecloth.

The son and daughter-in-law became irritated with the mess. "We must do something about Grandfather," said the son. "I've had enough of his spilled milk, noisy eating, and food on the floor." So the husband and wife set a small table in the corner. There, Grandfather ate alone while the rest of the family enjoyed dinner.

Since Grandfather had broken a dish or two, his food was served in a wooden bowl. When the family glanced in Grandfather's direction, sometimes he had a tear in his eye as he sat alone. Still, the only words the couple had for him were sharp admonitions when he dropped a fork or spilled food.

The four-year-old watched it all in silence. One evening before supper, the father noticed his son playing with wood scraps on the floor. He asked the child sweetly, "What are you making?" Just a sweetly, the boy responded, "Oh, I am making a little bowl for you and Mama to eat your food when I grow up." The four-year-old smiled and went back to work.

A family gives you unconditional love,
Strength and guidance they got from above
They listen when you need an ear
And one thing is they always care
When you need a hand
They'll lend you theirs
If you're crying they'll wipe your tears
If you need comfort, you know where to go
Their love is never hidden it is always shown
They always boast about you to anyone they meet Family, friends and even strangers on the street
A family is a precious and kind
A family is truly divine
A family is God's gift to everyone
They are what make your house your home
To be appreciated you don't have to go far Because your family loves you for who you are.

R

A feeling of agitation, anxiety, disquiet or apprehension

As long as fear is allowed to dominate our lives, we don't move forward.

Continue- increasingly- To do the things you fear - your fear will be eliminated.

Cultivate, fear or faith, grow stronger.

F

Do the things you fear and death of fear is certain.

Fear can be real or imaginary. To live in fear is like being in an emotional prison.

Fear is always psychological not logical.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Fear is like fire-under control. It is useful, but if uncontrolled, it can destroy. Constantly living in fear leads to the loss of purpose of life.

Fear is man's greatest enemy. Fear is thought in our mind and we are afraid of our own thought.

Fear is never so fearful once you look it in the eyes.

Fear is useful because it tells us to jump from a building that's on fire but fear is a problem when it tells us to do nothing.

Fear kills creativity and imagination.

Fear results in insecurity, lack of confidence, procrastination. Fear destroys our potential and ability. It ruins relationship and health.

It is not death that a man should fear, but he should fear never beginning to live.

Keep your fears to yourself but share your courage with others.

- Robert Louis Stevenson

Live by what you trust... not by what you fear.

Man is born only with two fears, the fear of falling and the fear of noise. All other fears are acquired.

Never let the fear of missing something stop you from experiencing the joy of unexpected.

Nothing is so much to be feared as fear. - Robert Louis Stevenson

Once we decide to face, a fear evaporates.

Performing your duty without attachment or aversion is a greater antidote to the poison of fear.
- Bhagvad Geeta

Some people never mature because of a fear of aging, and some because they refuse to accept responsibility.
- Brahma Kumaris

Sometime, a fear of things worsening can stimulate us into prompt action.

The fear you let build up in your mind is worse than the situation that actually exists.

The key to conquering fear lies in mastering belief. All fears, including those most destructive such as fear of failure, are nothing more than a state of mind.

Thinking about fear will be more painful to face it.

To live a creative life, we must lose our fear of being wrong...!

To overcome fear - Face it.

When you move beyond your fear, you feel free.

Two Seeds

Two seeds lay side in the fertile spring soil. The first seed said, "I want to grow! I want to send my roots deep into the soil beneath me, and thrust my sprouts through the earth's crust above me. . . I want to unfurl my tender buds like banners to announce the arrival of spring. I want to feel the warmth of the sun on my face and the blessing of the morning dew on my petals!" And so she grew. The second seed said, "I am afraid. If I send my roots into the ground below, I don't know what I will encounter in the dark, If I push my way through the hard soil above me I may damage my delicate sprouts . . . what if I let my bounds open and a snail tries to eat them? And if I were to open my blossoms, a small child may pull me from the ground. No, it is much better for me to wait until it is safe." And so she waited. A yard hen scratching around in the early spring ground for food found the waiting seed and promptly ate it.

Moral of the story :-
Fear destroys our potential and ability where the mind is without fear and the head is held high Where knowledge is free were the world has not been broken up into fragments by narrow domestic walls where words come from the depth of truth where tireless striving stretches its arms towards perfection were the clear stream of reason has not lost its way into the dreary desert sand of dead habit where the mind is led forward by thee into ever- widening thought and action into that haven of freedom, my Father, let my country awake.

- Rabindranath Tagore

FORGIVE

To excuse

To stop feeling angry with somebody who has done something wrong

As long as we do not forgive, they occupy rent free space in our mind.

Educated persons think clearly and logically, live honourably and courageously, give willingly and generously, and forgive lovingly and graciously.

Forgiveness does not change the past, but it does enlarge the future.

Forgiveness is the sweet scent that a flower gives when it is being crushed.

Forgiveness is wonderful fruit that a tree gives when it is being hurt by a stone..!

Great people Give, Give, Give and Forgive and ordinary people Get, Get, Get and Forget.

He who cannot forgive destroys the bridge over which he may one day need to pass.
- Larry Bielat

If we forget no need to forgive and if we can forgive we automatically forget.
- Hemant C. Lodha

If we stop getting hurt by others actions, we will not have to go through the painful process of forgiveness.

Living with the expectation 'To GET' & 'To GIVE' creates problems.... But, Living with the attitude 'To FORGET' & 'To FORGIVE,' solves many problems.

One day we will be old, weak and wrong so respect old, help weak and forgive wrong.

Stone breaks the head but water breaks the stone. Anger suppresses your enemy but forgiveness destroys the enmity.

There are two marks of greatness. Giving and forgiving.

There is no revenge so complete as forgiveness.

Two friends were walking through the desert. During some point of the journey, they had an argument; and one friend slapped the other one in the face. The one who got slapped was hurt, but without saying anything, wrote in the sand: today my best friend slapped me in the face.

They kept on walking, until they found an oasis, where they decided to take a bath the one who had been slapped got stuck in the mire and started drowning, but the friend saved him.

After he recovered from the near drowning, he wrote on a stone: "Today my best friend saved my life".

The friend who had slapped and saved his best friend asked him, "after i hurt you, you wrote in the sand and now, you write on a stone, why?"

The friend replied "when someone hurts us we should write it down in Sand, where winds of forgiveness can erase it away. But, when someone does something good for us, we must engrave it in stone where no wind can ever erase it."

life is too short to carry a grudgeget-out at first i thought i wouldnt speak to you
i would not budge
but we're only humans mortals on this earth
my love for you outweighs the bad by far and I'll always love you just as you are
i cant blame you for the way i think

i cant blame you for the way i feel every single emotion is first controlled by a thought behind every emotion is a thought change my thinking about what you said and I will automatically change the way I feel about it and look at it in a new way only i can do that i am the master of my thinking which makes me master of my emotions

FRIEND

A person whom one knows, likes, and trusts

A false friend and a shadow stay around only while the sun shines.

A friend is one who knows you as you are, understands where you've been, accepts who you have become, and still gently invites you to grow.

A friend is someone who knows the song in your heart and can sing it back to you have forgotten the words.

A friend to all is a friend to none. - Polish Proverb

A friend's eye is a good mirror. - Celtic Proverb

A good friend will fit you like ring to finger. - Venezuelan Proverb

A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of world walks out.

A true friend, "a sage once said, "is the person who steps in when the whole world steps out.

All important person may not be friend but all friends should be important in life.

Best "stand" is under"stand" Best "age" is colle"age". Best "work" is hard"work" Best "day" is to"day" and Best "end" is fri"end".

Don't let a little dispute injure a great friendship.

Don't walk in front of me, I may not follow- Don't walk behind me, I may not lead- Just walk beside me and be my friend.

Every one has a best friend during each stage of life only lucky ones have the same friend in all stages of life.

Everyone hears what you say. Friend listen to what you say. Best friend listen to what you don't say.

Eyes are parents, heart is lover, brain is teacher, fingers siblings, but a loving friend is blood! So, always keep flowing regularly.

F...Few, R...Relations, I...In, E...Earth, N....Never, D...Die.

False friends are like autumn leaves, found everywhere. - French Proverb

Friend in your life are like pillars on your porch. Sometimes they hold you up and sometimes they lean on you. Sometime it's just enough to know they're standing by.

Friend is a Medicine for Any Kind of Pain, BUT There is No Medicine Found in the World for Pain Given By Friend.

Friends are like beautiful street lamps. They may not make the distance shorter, but they light up your path & make the journey easy.

Friends., Health., & Time Don't Come With Price Tags, But When We Loose, We Realize The value !

Friendship is one mind in two bodies. - Mencius

Friendship is like wine, the older it is the better it is. - Czech Proverb

Friendship requires compromise without feeling compromised.

Good friend can see the truth and pain in us even when we are fooling everyone else.

Great friendship is about two main things...First is to find out the similarities and the second is to respect the differences.

Hold a true friend with both your hands. - Nigerian Proverb

If all my friend were to jump off a bridge, I wouldn't jump with them, I'd be at the bottom to catch them.

If friendship is your weakest point then you are the strongest person in the world.

If you have great friends, take the time to let them know that they're great.

It is better to be alone than in the wrong company.

Keep out of the suction caused by those who drift backwards. - E. K. Piper Leave SOMETHING for friend, Never Leave FRIEND for something.

Make a list of your friend and determine who is the most positive thinker amongst them and deliberately cultivate his society.

Many people will walk in and out of your life, but only true friends will leave footprints in your heart.

My father always used to say that when you die, if you've got five real friends, then you've had a great life.

Never choose a friend without understanding, and never lose a friend because of misunderstanding.

One close friend is worth more than a thousand acquaintance.

Only few true loving hearts in your life can easily identify some little lies in your smile and some more truths in your tears. Value those hearts.

Our friends are not the kind of people we want but the kind of people we are.

People come into your life for a reason, a season, or a lifetime. When you figure out which it is, you'll know exactly what to do. - Michelle Ventor

Sacrifice everything for a friend but don't sacrifice a friend for Anything.

Sacrifice is greater than love, character is better than beauty, humanity is greater than wealth, but nothing is greater than genuine friendship.

Sometimes in life we run so fast that we do not notice anyone running with us. We notice them only when we fall and they stop to pick us up.. They are called friend.

The best kind of friend is the kind you can sit on a porch and swing with, never say a word, and then walk away feeling like it was the best conversation you've ever had.

The company of good people is like shop of perfume... whether you purchase perfume or not, you will receive a lot of good fragrance.

The gold of friendship is a magic thing. The more we spend it on each other, the richer we become.

The world's happiest friends never have the same nature..They just have the best understanding of their differences...!!!

There are good ships and there are bad ships, but the best ships are friendships.

There is no better mirror than the face of an old friend.

- Cuban Proverb

Time alone can prove the worth of friendship. As time goes by we lose the false ones and the best ones stay.

To find a real friend in a lifetime is good fortune; to keep him, a blessing.

True friends in our lives are like the stars that are constantly shining, but often we do not see them until the dark hours come.

True friendship is like sound health; the value of it is seldom known until it be lost.

- Charles Caleb Colton

True people never go out from our life easily. But when it happens, they will come back at the Right Time without Expectation.

The Bee and the Dove

A bee and a dove were great friend. One day the bee felt thirsty and in order to quench its thirst went to the stream. As it was drinking water a swift and strong current washed it away. The dove, which was sitting on a tree, saw its friend in danger. It plucked a leaf and dropped it near the bee, which was struggling for life. The bee escaped. Few days later a hunter came to the jungle. He saw the dove sitting on the tree. He took a careful aim and the dove in order to kill it. The bee saw this. It at once flew to the hunter and stung him severely on the hand. He missed his aim and the dove flew away.

The Crow-Hen, The Cobra, and The Jackal

Once upon a time there was a crow and his wife who had built a nest in a banyan tree. A big snake crawled into the hollow trunk and ate up the chicks as they were hatched. The crow did not want to move, since he loved the tree dearly. So he went to his friend the jackal for advice. A plan of action was devised. The crow and his wife flew about in implementation. As the wife approached a pond, she saw the women of the king's court bathing, with pearls, necklaces, gems, garments, and a golden chain lying on the shore. The crow-hen seized the golden chain in her beak and flew toward the banyan tree with the eunuchs in pursuit. When she reached the tree, she dropped the chain into the hole. As the king's men climbed the tree for the chain, they saw the swelling hood of the cobra. So they killed the snake with their clubs, retrieved the golden chain, and went back to the pond. And the crow and his wife lived happily ever after. A tale from the Panchatantra, 4th century, retold in the craft of power. R.G.hsiu.1979

Moral of the story:-
Friend in need is a friend indeed.

When friends are in trouble, don't bother them by asking if there is anything you can do. Think of something appropriate and do it.

When I was walking alone I wished that I can reach the end of the road, but friends like you joined I wish the road never ends.

When we depart from this planet no one will count money what we earned but friends and relations what we created.

When you rise up your friends know who you are, when you fall down you know who your friends are.

Who remains with you till END is your good friEND.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Wrong people dislike you for the good in you & the right people like you knowing even the bad in you.

You become like those with whom you closely associates.

You will never have a friend if you must have one without faults.

- Italian Proverb

Your best friends are those who brings out best in you.

Your conscience is a good friend, listen to it more often.

- Brahma Kumaris

A FRIEND

a friend is someone who is concerned with everything you do
a friend is someone who is concerned with everything you think a friend is someone to call upon during good times
a friend is someone to call upon during bad times
a friend is someone who understands whatever you do
a friend is someone who tells you the truth about yourself
a friend is someone who know what you are going through at all times
a friend is someone who refuse to listen to gossip about you a friend is someone who is genuinely happy for you when things go well a friend is someone who reaches for your hand but touches your heart
a friend is someone who tries to cheer you up when things do not go well a friend is an extension of yourself without which you are not complete a friend is always there.
she listens when others seem not to care
she comforts in times of need and despair.
she laughs when you have special joy to share.
she lifts the clouds from dark to fair.
she answers your call,
no matter when, no matter where.
she has spirit, she has faith,
she includes you in prayer.
she is special, she is unique, she is oh so rare
my friend is always there.

GIVE

To make gift, present or contribute

To devote or apply completely

To permit one to have or take

To sacrifice

A bone to the dog is not charity. Charity is the bone shared with the dog, when you are just as hungry as the dog. - Jack London

Always think in terms of giving value added whether to customers, friends, your spouse, parents or children.

Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity.
- Horace Mann

Be like seed never shows off but gives thousands of fruits.

Do something for someone who does not have the power or resources to return the favour.

Do you want to see this WORLD after your death? Then "PLEASE DONATE YOUR EYES".

Don't give because you have too much, give because you know the feeling of having nothing.

Every luxury must be paid for, and everything is a luxury, starting with being in the world.

Everything in nature is for others. Rivers don't drink water. Trees don't eat fruit.. Sun doesn't use heat.. Living for Others is the natural way of Life.

Flowers blossom even when there is no one to admire their beauty. Continue your good work, honestly even when nobody is watching.

Give people more than they expect and do it cheerfully.

Giving gives feeling of abundance. - Hemant C. Lodha

He that gives should never remember, he that receives should never forget. - Talmud

He who divides and shares is left with the best share.
- Mexican Proverb

If you are going to give a gift, notice your true intentions.

In our willingness to give that which we seek, we keep the abundance of the universe circulating in our lives.

Measuring life by what others do for you may disappoint you. But measuring life by what you do for others will add more meaning to your life.

No man is so poor as to have nothing worth giving ... Give what you have. To someone it may be better than you dare to think.

- Henry Was Worth Longfellow

No person was ever honoured for what he received. Honour has been the reward for what he gave.

- Calvin Coolidge

One can give only what he is having.

One of the most difficult things to give away is kindness- it is usually returned.

- Cort R Flint

Rather than feel sorry for needy, let us love them.

Service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy on the earth.

Since you get more joy out of giving joy to others, you should put a good deal of thought into the happiness that you are able to give.

Some fragrances always cling to the hands of those who distribute roses.

The one who has the spirit of service is free from wasteful thinking.

The only way to gain respect is, firstly to give it. - Brahma Kumaris

The world is full of two kinds of people, the givers and takers. The takers eat well - but givers sleep well.

- Moder Maturity

True service is to spread the light of happiness all around.

We make a LIVING by what we get but we make a LIFE by what we give.

What we have for ourselves dies with us, but what we have done for others remains forever.

You can give without loving, but you can not love without giving.

A Pound of Butter

There was a farmer who sold a pound of butter to the baker. One day the baker decided to weight the butter to see if he was getting a pound and he found that he was not. This angered him and he took the farmer to court. The judge asked the farmers if he was using any measure. The farmers replied, "Your Honor, I am primitive. I don't have a proper measure, but I do have a scale." The judge asked, "Then how do you weight the butter?" The farmer replied "Your Honor, long before the baker started buying butter from me, I have been buying a pound loaf of bread from him. Every day when the baker brings the bread, I put it on the scale and give him the same weight in butter. If anyone is to be blamed, it is the baker.

Moral of the story:-

We get back what we give to others.

With what you get from others you make a living for yourself.
what you give to others makes a life for yourself.

Hindu Maxim

we get back in life, what we give to others.

GOAL

Something that one hopes to achieve

To work towards an aim or objective

A dream becomes a goal when action is taken towards its achievement.

A goal without a deadline is not a goal but it is a wish.

Aim for the moon, if you miss, you will be among the stars.

Birds fly high without looking down. Aim high and keep going.

Divide your dreams into small goals and multiply your performance.

- Hemant C. Lodha

If a man knows not what harbour he seeks, any wind is the right wind.

- Seneca

If one does not know to which port one is sailing, no wind is favourable.

If your goal makes you sweat a bit, then chances are it's a really good goal-one that will stretch you.

In the long run, men hit only what they aim at. Therefore, they had better aim at something high.

- Henry David Thoreau

Knowing where you are going is the first step to getting there.

Our goals should be high enough to motivate yet realistic enough to avoid discouragement.

Put goals in writing, if you cannot put it on a sheet of paper...you probably cannot achieve it.

Success is the progressive realization of worthy goals.

- Earl Nightingale

The great danger for most of us is not that our aim is too high and we miss it; but that it is too low and we reach it.

- Michael Angelo

The greatest danger for most of us is not that our aim is too high and we miss it, but that it is too low and we reach it.

- Michelangelo

The purpose of goals is to focus our attention. The mind will not reach towards achievement until it has clear objectives.

The tragedy in life is not that you are not reaching the goal but having no goal to reach.

There is only one difference between dreams and aims. Dreams require sound sleep and aims require sleepless efforts.

To have a clear aim of where the action will lead is to be successful in everything.

We gravitate in the direction of our most dominant thoughts. If we have some definite goals in mind our subconscious will help us to get there.

What makes the great, great ? It is not their accomplishment . It is the amount of obstacles they overcome to reach their goals that make them great.

- Dorothy Heights

Whatever we do, we must always remember our aim. If you dream to fly with eagles do not waste time in swimming with ducks.

Winners ignore past achievements and focus on future goals.

World is not a parking space. It is a racing track keep on moving. No matter where you start but reach your goal.

You don't have to be a fantastic hero to do certain things -- to compete. You can be just an ordinary chap, sufficiently motivated to reach challenging goals.

- Edmund Hillary

You will encounter people who react negatively to your goals. The truth is, your goals scare the hack out of them.

true end is not in the reaching of the limit but in a completion which is limitless

Rabindranath Tagore

Eye of the Bird

Dronacharya was teaching the Pandavas and Kaurawas the art of the archery. He placed a wooden bird as the target and asked them to aim at the eye of the bird. The first disciple was asked to aim and describe what he saw. He replied, "I see the tree, the branches, the leaves, the say, the birds and its eye." Dronacharya asked him to wait. Then he asked a second disciple the same question and received a similar reply. He too, was asked to wait. Finally it was Arjun's turn. Confronted with the same question he replied, "I can only see the eye." Dronacharya asked him to go ahead and shoot. Arjun's arrow flew straight and hit the eye of the bird.

Moral of the story :-

You cannot hit two targets with one arrow. If your thoughts stray, you miss the target. Mind and arrow must become one. Only with such concentration of mental and physical power can your arrow hit the target.

G

A being or a spirit who is believed to have power

O

Something to which too much importance or attention is given

A man asked God- "what's the difference between your love & human love? "God smiled & replied-" a bird in the sky is my love & a bird in a cage is your love".

Always ask GOD to give you what you deserve. Your desire may be few but you deserve a lot.

Be selfish and continue to work only for own soul enlightenment.

Every one wants peace, happiness and freedom from fear but god gives us seeds not the fruits.

For every bird God provides food but not in its nest.

God has given us "REAL EYES" to "REALISE" the "REAL LIES". Therefore think twice & act wise.

God doesn't look at how much we do, but with how much love we do it.
- Mother Teresa

God gives the same amount of time to the poor, to the rich, to the young and to the old. Whatever successes we may achieve in this life will come from the purpose to which we put god's priceless gift--time.

- Leon A. Danco

God gives us life with both happy and sad moments but our parents always try to give us happy life.

God is invisible parent. Parents are visible Gods. If you love and care for visible Gods invisible parent will take care of you.

God never Promised us Easy Journeys in Life, He only promised a Great Destination.

Hard work is like a cup of milk..Luck is just like a spoon of sugar..God always give sugar to those who have a cup of milk.

If God had wanted us to talk more than listen, he would have given us two mouths rather than two ears.

If we can not love the person whom we see, than how can we love God whom we can not see.
- Mother Teresa

If you don't forgive men their sins, god will not forgive your sins.

Just as a candle cannot burn without fire, men cannot live without a spiritual life. -Buddha

Let God love you through others and love others through you.

Most of us believe in existence of GOD because either we have fear of losing or greed to get something. -Hemant C. Lodha

No Matter How Noble Our Intentions Are, World Judges By Our Presentation. No Matter How Great Our Presentations, GOD Judges By Our ACTIONS !

Often when we lose all hope and think this is the end, God smiles and say relax dear it is just a bend.

one who has any faith in God should be ashamed to worry about anything whatsoever. - Mahatma Gandhi

Our KARMA is our GOD. - Hemant C. Lodha

Pray as if every thing depends on god, work as if everything depends on you.

Prayer does not change God, but it changes him who prays.

Prayer does not change the situation but it changes our attitude to the situation & gives us hope which in turn can change consequences of situation.

Prayer is not an attempt to change God's mind ! But its an attempt to let God change our mind !!

It is God's finger on man's shoulder. - Charles Morgan

We see our present & plan our future. God sees our future & plans our present.

When God solves the problem means you had faith in God but when he doesn't it means he has faith in your ability.

Why do we have so many Temples, if God is everywhere?? A wise man said: Air is everywhere, but we still need a fan to feel it..!!

World judges us by our presentation and God by our intention. Choice is ours to who we want to make our judge. - Buddha

GOD

In a small town, a person decided to open up a brothel, which was right opposite to a church. The church and its congregation started a campaign to block the brothel from opening with petitions and prayed daily against its business.

Work progressed. However, when it was almost complete and was about to open a few days later, a strong lightning struck the brothel and it was burnt to the ground.

The church folks were rather smug in their outlook after that, till the brothel owner sued the church authorities on the grounds that the church through its congregation and prayers was ultimately responsible for the destruction of his brothel, either through direct or indirect actions or means.

In its reply to the court, the church vehemently denied all responsibility or any connection that their prayers were reasons for the act of God. As the case made its way into court, the judge looked over the paperwork at the hearing and commented:

' I don't know how I'm going to decide this case, but it appears from the paperwork, we have a brothel owner who believes in the power of prayer and we have an entire church that doesn't.'

S A recurrent, often subconscious pattern of behavior that is acquired through frequent repetition

T Anything we do repeatedly becomes habit, control of doing moves from conscious mind to sub conscious mind.

I Bad habits are like comfortable bed, easy to get into but hard to get out.

B Break the leg of a bad habit. - Puerto Rican Proverb

H Habits are a matter of the pain and pleasure principle. We do things either to avoid pain or to gain pleasure. So long as the gain is more than the pain, we continue with the habit. But if pain exceeds the gain, we drop it.

A Habits can be developed by default or determination.

Habits start by being too weak to be felt, and end up becoming too strong to get out of.

If we remove H from Habit, A Bit is there, remove A bit is there, remove B, IT is still there.

It takes 21 days conscious effort to change even a 21 year old habit. - Hemant C. Lodha

Most of the troubles in life are the result of saying 'yes' too soon or 'no' too late.

Nothing is worst than habit of doubt.

Practice makes perfect... so be careful what you practice.

To be powerful is to destroy unwanted habits.

We first make our habits, and then our habits make us. -John Dryden

Winning does not always means being first . Winning means doing better than you have ever done before.... Have a winning habit.

The Jackal and The Camel

Once a jackal and camel were friends, the jackal being a clever fellow always befooled his friend. One day he told the camel that he knew a field of lemons and if the camel carried him on his back he would show it to him and they both could have a hearty meal. Soon they both were traveling across the river. They entered the field and had a hearty meal. Soon the jackal that was full began to howl. The camel requested the jackal to stop howling or the owners would come and beat him. The jackal said that it was his habit to howl after dinner and he did not stop. The owners came out and the jackal hid in the bushes. The camel was beaten black and blue with the long staves. After the farmers had gone the jackal came out and they started the return journey. When the camel reached mid-stream he began to roll drowning the jackal. When the jackal asked him to stop doing that his reply was that he had a habit of rolling in the water after a hearty meal. The cunning jackal drowned.

Touchstone

A fortunate man was told that, if he possess the "touchstone," its magical power could give him anything he wanted. The touchstone could be found; he was informed, among the pebbles of a certain beach. All he needed was to pick up a stone-if it felt warm to the touch, unlike the other pebbles, he has found the magical touchstone.

The man went immediately to the beach and began picking up stones. When he grasped a pebble that felt could, he threw it into the sea. This practice continued hour after hour, day after day, week after week. Each pebble felt cold. Each pebble was immediately tossed into the sea.

But then, late one morning, he happened to take hold of a pebble, which felt warm, unlike the other stones. The man, Who's consciousness had barely registered the difference, tossed it into the sea. He hadn't meant to, he had formed a habit!

Moral of the story:-

Habits are the basic cause of mistakes.

HAPPINESS

Enjoying

Showing pleasure

Satisfaction

Joy or cheer

A Butterfly Lives Only 14 Days. But Still It Flies Joyfully Capturing Many Hearts. Each Moment In Life Is Precious.

A Poor Man Can Be Happy, But A Happy Man Can Never Be Poor.

Acceptance is the secret of Contentment.

All of the animals except man know that the principal business of life is to enjoy it.

Almost everything can be purchased at reduced price except happiness, it is free.

Always be the reason of someone's happiness never be just a part of it. Always be a part of someone's sadness, not reason for it.

Be willing to accept temporary pain for permanent happiness.

Being happy doesn't mean everything is perfect. It means we have decided to look beyond perfection.

Being happy requires looking for good things. One person sees the beautiful view the other sees the dirty window.

Do not be happy just for a reason because happiness ends with that reason. Always be happy without any reason & you will be happy forever.

Doing what you like is freedom, Liking what you do is happiness.

Easy to get what we want but difficult to enjoy what we get.

Even the most powerful man is weaker in front of the most happiest person in the world.

Everything has beauty, but not everyone sees it.

- Confucius

Happiness can be caught , sought or though, but never bought; The best way to keep happiness is to share it.

Happiness comes when you believe in what you are doing, know what you are doing and love what you are doing.

Happiness is a perfume you CANNOT pour on others without getting a few drops on yourself.

Happiness is by-product of Action.

Happiness is good .The place to be happy is here. The time to be happy is now. The way to be happy is to help make others happy.

Happiness is good health and a bad memory. - Ingrid Bergman

Happiness is like a butterfly. The more you chase it, the more it will elude you. But if you turn your attention to other things, it comes and softly sits on your shoulder.

Happiness is not a destination, not a state to arrive at but a manner of traveling.

Happiness is not a goal, it is a by-product. - Eleanor Roosevelt

Happiness is right direction not the final destination.

Happiness is the art of making a bouquet of flowers within your reach.

Happiness is the only product in the world that is multiplied by division. - J. J. Golstein

Happiness radiates like the fragrance from a flower, and draws all good things toward you. Allow your love to nourish yourself as well as others. - Maharishi Mahesh Yogi

Happiness stays with them who keeps zero distance between thoughts and expressions. - Hemant C. Lodha

Happiness stays with those who have ability to erase bad memories.

Hurting someone is as easy as cutting tree but making someone happy is like growing a tree.

If We Cannot Be A PENCIL To Write Anyone's HAPPINESS, We Should TRY At Least To Be A NICE RUBBER To ERASE Someone's SORROWS.

If you do everything with the feeling of happiness, there will be no task too difficult to perform.

- Brahma Kumaris

If you wait for happy moments, you will wait for ever, but if you start believing that you are happy you will be happy for ever.

In our mind either we can store past or happiness.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Instead of complaining that the rosebush is full of thorns, be happy that the thorn bush has roses.

- German Proverb

It has always seemed to me that hearty laughter is a good way to jog internally without having to go outdoors.

- Norman Cousins

It is not what happens to us in life that determines our happiness so much as the way we react to what happens.

Laughter is a tranquillizer with no side effects.

- Arnold Glasgow

Learn to write your pains on the sand where winds of joy can erase it. Carve your happiness on stone where even storm of pain can not dare to erase it.

LIFE is a one way road . .Where you can See Back But can't Go Back So don't miss anything. Enjoy Every Second of it.

Life is Beautiful only for those who know how to celebrate the pain.

Life is like making TEA, Boil your Ego, Evaporate your Worries, Dilute your Sorrows, Filter your Mistakes & get taste of Happiness.

Life laughs at you when you are unhappy, smiles at you when you are happy, salutes you when you make others happy.

Maturity means taking responsibility for our own happiness and choosing to concentrate on what we have got rather than on what we haven't.

Most people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.

- Abraham Lincoln

Most people ask for happiness on condition. Happiness can be felt only if you don't set any conditions.

Most people would rather be certain they're miserable, than risk being happy.

- Robert Anthony

Much happiness is overlooked simply because it doesn't cost anything.

- Prism

No one else puts thoughts in our mind. To be happy, we need to concentrate on happy thoughts.

Not what we have but what we use, not what we see but what we choose, bless human happiness.

Not what we have, but what we enjoy, constitutes our abundance.

One of the sanest, surest, and most generous joys of life comes from being happy over the good fortune of others.

Power has never given peace and when you are at peace no power is required.

Remember ,happiness doesn't depend upon who you are or what you have; it depends solely upon what you think.

- Dale Carnegie

Remember that happiness is a way of travel -not a destination.

- Roy M. Goodman

Simplicity is the path to true happiness.

Some people cause happiness wherever they go; others cause happiness whenever they go.

Success is getting what you want. Happiness is liking what you get.

-H. Jackson Brown

Success may not give happiness but happy mind certainly lead to success.

The beauty of this life is one can be happy without any reason.

The best way to secure future happiness is to be as happy as is rightfully possible today.

The foolish person seeks happiness in the distance; the wise person grows it under his feet.

- James Oppenheim

The happiest of people don't necessarily have the best of everything; they just make the most of everything that comes along their way.

The key to happiness is not that you never get upset, frustrated or depressed. It's how quickly you decide to snap out of it.

The man has not yet been born who can please everyone.

- Polish Proverb

The more you understand yourself, the easier it is to remain happy and peaceful.

- Brahma Kumaris

The most wasted of all days is that on which one has not laughed.

- Nicolas Sebastien Chamfort

The quality of our thoughts determines our own personal degree of happiness.

- Brahma Kumaris

The real secret of happiness is not what you give or what you receive; it's what you share.

The secret of being happy is not in doing what one likes, but in liking what one does.

There is no road in the world which goes to happiness but happiness itself is the only way which goes any where in the world.

To always remain happy is the best habit to cultivate.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Unexpected care always keep us happy ... But Expected Care always make us unhappy.

Unhappiness is not knowing what we want and killing ourselves to get it.

We are all here for a spell, get all the good laughs you can.

- Will Rogers

We have no control on number of remaining days in our life but we have full control to live happily in remaining days of our life.

- Hemant C. Lodha

We would be happier with what we have if we weren't so unhappy about what we don't have.

- Frank A Clark

Two Choices

An old man appeared on a popular television program. He had received a prize for having won a contest. He stole the show with his spirit and quick wit. "It is easy to see," remarked the admiring master of ceremonies, "that you are a very happy man. What is the secret of being as happy as you are?" "Why, son," the old man answered, "it's as plain as the nose on your face. When I wake up in the morning, I have two choices. One is to be unhappy, the other to be happy. And I want you to know son that I'm not as dumb as I may look. I'm smart enough to choose happiness. I just make up my mind to be happy; that's all there is to it."

Moral of the story:-

Happiness is a matter of choice not a matter of luck.

non permanent appearance of happiness and distress and their disappearance in due course are like the appearance and disappearance of winter and summer seasons

Bhagvad Geeta

HATE

To dislike something or somebody extremely

Boys and girls get into love because of misunderstanding, and hate each other when they understand each other perfectly.

Hate is a prolonged form of suicide.

- Douglass V Steere

Hate is an immature defence against fear.

Hate is like acid. It can damage the vessel in which it is stored as well as destroy the object on which it is poured.

Ice melts When heated & Eyes melts When hated.

If you love yourself despite infinite faults, how can you hate others at glimpse of few faults.

- Swami Vivekanand

Let heart overflow with LOVE so NO ENTRY for hate.

Never say "hate", its' too strong an emotion to waste on someone you dislike.

Peace is the food of hate.

- Hemant C. Lodha

People hate what they do not understand.

- Jewish Proverb

The only reason anyone would ever hate you is because they want to be just like you.

Life is an Echo

A little boy got angry with his mother and shouted at her, "I hate you, I hate you." Because of fear of reprimand, he ran out of the house. He went up to the valley and shouted, "I hate you, I hate you," and back came the echo, "I hate you, I hate you." This was the first time in his life he had heard an echo. He got scared, went to his mother for protection and said there was a bad boy in the valley who shouted "I hate you, I hate you." The mother understood and she asked her son to go back and shout, "I love you, I love you." The little boy went and shouted, "I love you, I love you," and back came the echo. The mother taught the little boy a lesson-that our life is like an echo; We get back what we give.

HELP

To give assistance or contribute to the furtherance of others

A good exercise for the heart is to bend down and help another up.

A survey of successful people would reveal that they are more able to ask when they want something done.

Asking indicates self worth and self-esteem. Asking confirms in our mind and in the mind of others that we have rights and privileges. Asking is the first logical step to let others know what you want. People are not mind readers. Asking gives somebody else the pleasure of helping you. if you like to help others, then give them the same opportunity.

Don't feel Bitter that people remember only when they Need because CANDLE Comes to Mind when there's Darkness in life.

Extending one help to some one has more value than joining two hands for prayer.

Go to help your friend in problem without invitation and do not go to your friend in happiness without invitation.

Hands that help are better than lips that pray.

Help and forget otherwise doctor will be needed to help you.

- Hemant C. Lodha

How to get what you want --> Ask for it.

I am not handsome but I can give hand to some one to help.

- Abdul Kalam

I may not be your Favourite Colour, But hope you will need me some where to Complete your PICTURE.

If you need to turn to an ally for help, do not bother to remind him of your past assistance and good deeds. He will find a way to ignore you.

It is better to light a candle than to curse darkness.

It is one of the most beautiful compensation of life that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself.

Some times people are nothing and you make them some thing & when they become some thing they feel that you are nothing.

The best helping hand you can ever get is at the end of your own arms.

The easiest way to get what we want is to help other get what they want.

True help is to give support in such a way that people become independent and no longer support is needed.

We are remembered only when we are needed, Candle comes to Mind only during Power cut. Be proud for being candle in some one's life.

We cannot help ourselves without helping others.

When you help other people overcome their obstacles, you also find a way to help yourself get around your own.

While helping do not look into the eyes of needy, there are all chances that his shamefulness may develop ego in your heart.

The Squirrel and the Cartload of nuts

A Squirrel lived on a tree near a lion's cave. One day the lion was caught in a net laid by the hunters. It fretted and fumed, roared and raged fearfully. The squirrel heard the roars of her king and saw him in a pitiable condition. The squirrel wanted to do him a good turns and began to gnaw the net. After working for the whole night she freed him.

The lion was full of gratitude and promised her a cartload of must. The squirrel then entered the services of the lion. Soon she was his pet and favorite. The lion had not forgotten his promise but delayed its fulfillment purposely. The squirrel depended on the lion and did not gather the nuts like her friends. Soon she became old and lost all her teeth. She retired from the services of the lion. The lion now brought her the cartload of nuts is of no use to me now. As all my teeth are broken T can't break a single nut."

The lion's reply was, "small creature I purposely delayed fulfilling my promise. Your friends did not depend on their friend so they never remained hungry but as you depended on me you always suffered. I wanted to teach you the value of self help."

Moral of the story :-

You do not need any help if you help yourself.

HOPE

To want something to happen

To think it is possible

A prime function of a leader is to keep hope alive. - John W. Gardner

A sunset here is a sunrise on the other end of the world. Never give up because what appears to be the end may actually be a new beginning.

Do not lose hope in the hopeless. - Brahma Kumaris

Don't curse the darkness -light a candle. - Chinese Proverb

Hope for the best, but prepare for the worst.

Hope is the fuel for future achievements. - Hemant C. Lodha

Just remember-when you think all is lost, the future remains.

Never lose hope. Hope is a rope that swings you through life.

- Brahma Kumaris

Strive for ENDLESS HOPE than HOPELESS END.

There are no hopeless situations-only people who are hopeless about them.

There was never a night or a problem that could defeat sunrise or hope. - Bern Williams

I am a believer;
I seek peace in the palsy
I seek grace in the grime
I seek essence in emptiness.
I live and I breathe, So I hope.
I was waiting for a fortune cookie, directly from heaven and
I received one, but a blank note.
I realize
It's time perhaps to wild my tame heart.
Time is rushing past my window like white snow flakes.
speck by speck, night by day
I gain guts to achieve what the world say I cant!
Now, I either find my way or make one.

- Dr. Baishali Bhaumik Mitra

IMAGINATION

The ability to form mental images

The ability to confront and deal with reality by using the creative power of the mind

The formation of a mental image of something that is neither perceived as real nor present to the senses

A good imagination is also important for a good memory. Whenever we record information in our memory banks, we use our imagination and our powers of visualization.

Best results are generated at the end of the day if best ideas are generated at the beginning of the day.

Don't dismiss a good idea, simply because you don't like the source.

Expecting the World to Treat you Fairly because you are a Good Person Is Like Expecting the Lion not to Attack you because you are a Vegetarian.

Great battles are won before they are actually fought.

- John Lubbock

I am enough of an artist to draw freely upon my imagination. Imagination is more important than knowledge. Knowledge is limited. Imagination encircles the world.

Idea owners are like mothers who loves her children in spite of all defects.

- Hemant C. Lodha

If in the recent past you haven't discarded one of your favourite ideas or ACCEPTED a new one check your pulse; you might be dead.

If there's a way to do it better... find it.

- Thomas A Edison

If we can totally involve ourselves in an imaginary scene from nature, say the beach, then we will have the ability to relax at will. What a valuable asset.

Imagination is an ability to create in our minds beyond our present reality.

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

- Albert Einstein

Imagination is the key to all learning and all problem solving.

Imagination is the process of creating and seeing a mental picture of the kind of thing we want to have or do, or the kind of person we want to be.

Imagination is the unique endowment given only to human being in abundance but used very scarcely. - Hemant C. Lodha

It requires great power to make the best use of time that is in your hands. Therefore, be imaginative and resourceful. - Brahma Kumaris

See what everybody else has seen and think what nobody else has thought.

Serious people have few ideas. People with ideas are never serious. - Paul Valery

The goodness of any idea dies the moment you get better idea.

The intelligent man is always open to new ideas. In fact, he looks for them.

The source and centre of all man's creative power... is his power of making images, or the power of imagination. - Robert Collier

The unique thing about being human is that you can create something out of nothing.

The world of reality has its limits; the world of imagination is boundless.

What the mind of man can conceive and believe, the mind of man can achieve. - Napoleon Hill

Worry is the misuse of imagination.

You can't depend on your eyes when your eyes imagination is out of focus.

Blind Man Near the Window

Two men, both seriously ill, occupied the same hospital room. One man was allowed to sit up in his bed for an hour each afternoon to help drain the fluid from his lungs. His bed was next to the room's only window. The other man had to spend all his time flat on his back. The men talked for hours on end. They spoke of their wives and families, their homes, their jobs, their involvement in the military service, where they had been on vocation. And every afternoon when the man in the bed by the window could sit up, he would pass the time by describing to his roommate all the things he could see the window. The man in the other bed began to live for those one-hour periods where his world would be broadened and enlivened by all the activity and color of the world outside. The window overlooked a park with a lovely lake. Ducks and swans played on the water while children sailed their model boats. Young lovers walked arm-in-arm amidst flowers of every color of the rainbow. Grand old tree graced the landscape, and a fine view of the city skyline could be seen in the distance. As the man by the described all this in exquisite detail, the man on the other side of the room would close his eyes and imagine the picturesque scene.

One warm afternoon the man by the window described a parade passing by. Although the other man couldn't hear the band he could see it in his mind's eye as the gentleman by the window portrayed it with descriptive words.

Days and weeks passed. One morning, the day nurse arrived to bring water for their baths only to find the lifeless body of the man by the window, who had lied peacefully in his sleep. She was saddened and called the hospital attendants to take the body away.

As soon as it seemed appropriate, the other man asked if he could be moved next to the window. The nurse was happy to make the switch, and after making sure he was comfortable, she left him alone. Slowly, painfully, he propped himself up on one elbow to take his first look at the world outside. Finally, he would have the joy of seeing it for himself.

He strained to slowly turn to look out the window beside the bed. It faced a blank wall. The man asked the nurse what could have compelled his deceased roommate who had described such wonderful things outside this window. The nurse responded that the man was blind and could not even see the wall. She said , "Perhaps he just wanted to encourage you."

KNOWLEDGE

Learning

The state or fact of knowing

Specific information about something

The sum or range of what has been perceived, discovered, or learned

Familiarity, awareness, or understanding gained through experience or study

A person who is morally educated will be a lot better equipped to move up in life or succeed than a morally bankrupt person with excellent academic qualifications.

A simple way to remove fear is to seek knowledge and understanding.
- Brahma Kumaris

Anyone who thinks he knows all the answers isn't up to date on the questions.
- Frank Lawrence

Educated people are those who can choose wisely and courageously under any circumstances.

Genius without education is like silver in the mine.
- Benjamin Franklin

If you think education is costly, try ignorance.

It is a thousand times better to have common sense without education than to have education without common sense.

Knowing is not enough; we must apply.

Knowledge and timber shouldn't be much used until they are seasoned.
- Oliver Wendell Holmes

Knowledge has got no edge. It is like the universe, no beginning and no end.
- Hemant C. Lodha

Knowledge is like a garden; if it is not cultivated, it cannot be harvested.
- African Proverb

Knowledge which is acquired under compulsion obtains no hold on the mind.

Listen to Everyone & Learn from Everyone. Because, Nobody knows EVERYTHING but Everyone knows SOMETHING.

More than ignorance, the bigger problem is the illusion of knowledge, which can mislead a person.

No candle loses its light while lighting up another candle.

One of the biggest problem of the world is that the stupid ones are damn sure and the intelligent are full of doubt.

One of the chief objects of education should be to widen the windows through which we view the world.

People want to know how much you care before they care how much you know.

Regardless of the outcome, terrifying situation can be learning experience that prepare us for the future.

Share your knowledge. It's a way to achieve immortality.

Some people drink at the fountain of knowledge. Others just gargle.

Study as if you were to live forever, live as if you were to die tomorrow.

- Mahatma Gandhi

The first step towards knowledge is awareness of areas of ignorance. A person who thinks he knows everything has the most to learn.

Those who do not read are no better off than those who can not.

- Chinese Proverb

Those who think they know it all are very annoying to those who do.

To know to read is not as important as to know what to read.

To teach is to learn twice.

We are learning, only if we have more questions than answers.

We are slaves to whatever we don't understand. - Vernon Howard

We can control other people by knowing something that they don't.

We talk what we already know but we learn what we listen.

When you stop learning, you stop growing.

Zen Story

In a famous Zen story, a university professor who wished to know all about Zen visited Nan In, master. Nan In served the professor some time. He poured the cup full and then continued to pour. The professor watched the over flow until he could restrain himself no longer. He said, "Stop it. No more will go in." "Like this cup," said the Zen master, "you are full of your own ideas and notions. How can I show you Zen unless you first empty your cup?"

Moral of the story :-

When you know that you do not know then only you will know what you want to know.

Animals' School

Some animals in a forest decided to start a school. The students included a bird, a squirrel, a fish, a dog, a rabbit and a mentally retarded eel. A board was formed and it was decided that flying, tree climbing, swimming, and burrowing would be part of the curriculum in order to give a broad based education. All animals were required to take all subjects. The bird was excellent at flying but when it came to burrowing, it kept breaking, it kept breaking its beak and wings and started failing. Pretty soon, it started making Cs in flying and of course in tree climbing and swimming it was getting Fs. The squirrel was great at tree climbing and was getting As, but was failing in swimming. The fish was the best swimming. The fish was the best swimmer but couldn't get out of the water and got Fs in everything else. The dog didn't join the school, stopped paying taxes and kept fighting with the administration to include barking as part of the curriculum. The rabbit got As in burrowing but tree climbing was a real problem. It kept falling and landing on its head, suffered brain damage, and soon couldn't even burrow property and got Cs in that too. The mentally retarded eel, which did everything half as well, became the valedictorian of the class. The board was happy because everybody was getting a broad-based education.

Moral of the story :-

It is wise to be a master of one than jack of all.

A stranger was seated next to a little girl on an airplane that was leaving Chicago O'Hare. The stranger turned to her and said, "Let's talk. I've heard that flights go quicker if you strike up a conversation with your fellow passenger."

The little girl, who had just opened her book, closed it slowly and said to the stranger, "What would you like to talk about?"

Oh, I don't know", said the stranger, "How about nuclear power?"

"OK", she said. "That could be an interesting topic. But let me ask you a question first. A horse, a cow, and a deer all eat grass, the same stuff. Yet a deer excretes little pellets, while a cow turns out a flat patty, and a horse produces clumps of dried grass. Why do you suppose that is?"

The stranger thinks about it and says, "Hmmm, I have no idea."

The little girl then asks, "Do you really feel qualified to discuss nuclear power when you don't know shit?"

LEADERSHIP

Leading a group of people for a common purpose

A good leader takes a little more than his share of the blame, a little than his share of the credit.

- Arnold Glasgow

A Group of Donkeys Led by a Lion can defeat a group of Lions led by a Donkey.

A is the leader of all alphabets but doesn't appear in spelling from 1 to 999. That is the quality of true leader.

A leader is a dealer in hope.

- Napoleon Bonaparte

A Leader is a Person who can inspire his team to perform better than himself.

A Leader is like a light house, it does not ring bells or fire guns to call attention. He simply shows way.

A leader is one who knows the way, shows the way and goes the way.

A leader makes his men realize they have more ability than they think they have.

A leader must have courage to act against expert's advice.

A leader puts ideas into people's minds and inspires them into action . Empowering one's followers rather than controlling them is the hallmark of true leadership.

A manager is not a person who can do the work better than his men; he is a person who can get his men to do the work better than he can.

- Fred Smith

A person who cannot lead and will not follow invariably is a troublemaker.

A society is in danger when those who have never learnt to obey are given the right to command.

A true leader works at creating more leaders, not followers.

Ability to see the both sides of the coin is must quality for Leaders.

Authority is a poor substitute for leadership.

Create the team of people either who LOVE TO WIN or HATE TO LOOSE.

Effort is the key, but direction and loyalty are paramount.

Either lead, follow or get out of the way. - Ted Turner

He who walks in another's tracks leaves no footprints. -Joan Brannon

I neither ask nor desire to know anything of your plans. Take the responsibility and act, and call on me for assistance. -Abraham Lincoln

If you want to get the best out of a man, you must look for the best that is in him. - Bernard Haldane

If your actions inspires others to dream more, do more and become more, you are a leader.

It is better to be a good follower than a poor leader. - Shiv Khera

It is the part of good shepherd to shear his flock, not to skin it. - Latin Proverb

Just as Cream Rises Above the milk, Leader Emerge.

Leadership is about taking initiative and being accountable.

Leadership is action, not position. - Donald H. McGannon

Leadership is the ability to put the right people in the right jobs and then sit on the side-lines and be a rousing good cheerleader.

Manage as though you had no authority. Lead by the quality of your ideas.

Manage by example.

Management works in the system, Leadership works on the system...!

Never give an order that can't be obeyed. - Douglas MacArthur

No person can be a great leader unless he takes genuine joy in the successes of those under him. - W. A. Nance

Only the man of worth can recognise worth in men. -Thomas Carlyle

People are not looking for miracles, they are looking for direction. - Shiv Khera

People are not to be managed but to be lead. - Hemant C. Lodha

People ask the differences between leader and a boss. The leader works in the open, and the boss is covert. The leader leads, and the boss drives. - Theodore Roosevelt

Power is like love, the more a manager gives to others, the more he receives in return.

Power only corrupt those who are corruptible to begin with.

Remember the difference between a boss and a leader : a boss says "Go!" - a leader says "Let's go!" - E. M. Kelly

Seek direction from one who's already there.

Take away my people, but leave my factories, and soon grass will grow on the factory floors. Take away my factories, but leave my people, and soon we will have a new and better factory. - Andrew Carnegie

Tell me and I'll forget. Show me, and I may not remember. Involve me, and I'll understand. - American Proverb

The best executive is the one who has sense enough to pick good men to do what he wants done and self-restrain enough to keep from meddling with them while they do it. - Theodore Roosevelt

The best way to determine what motivates people? Ask them.

The executive's chief business is to organize ,deputize and supervise. - Ripley

The final test of a leader is that he leaves behind in other men the conviction and the will to carry on. - Walter Lippman

The flower which is single, need not envy the thorns that are numerous.

- Rabindranath Tagore

The length of a report has an inverse relationship to the author's status in the organization.

The person who knows how, will always have a job. But the person who knows why will be his boss.

- Carl C. Wood

There's always room at the top.

- Daniel Webster

When you react, the event controls you. When you respond, you are in control of the event.

You must learn to obey before you command.

- Polish Proverb

ASSHOLE

When the body was first made, all the parts wanted to be Boss. The brain said, "I should be Boss because I control the whole body's responses and functions."

The feet said, "We should be Boss as we carry the brain about and get him to where he wants to go."

The hands said, "We should be the Boss because we do all the work and earn all the money." And so it went on and on with the heart, the lungs and the eyes until finally the asshole spoke up.

All the parts laughed at the idea of the asshole being the Boss. So the asshole went on strike, blocked itself up and refused to work. Within a short time the eyes became crossed, the hands clenched, the feet twitched, the heart and lungs began to panic and the brain fevered. Eventually they all decided that the asshole should be the Boss, so the motion was passed. All the other parts did all the work while the Boss just sat and passed out the shit!

Moral of the story :-

You don't need brains to be a Boss. Any asshole will do.

What would happen if we drove our car with the brakes on? Life is also same release emotional brakes by building positive attitude, high self-esteem and by accepting responsibility.

When we are motivated by goals that have deep meaning, by dreams that need completion, by pure love that needs expressing, then we truly live life.
- Greg Anderson

When we often think and talk about our bad memories, they enjoy staying with us rest of our life.

A group of alumni, highly established in their careers, got together to visit their old university professor.

Conversation soon turned into complaints about stress in work and life.

Offering his guests coffee, the professor went to the kitchen and returned with a large pot of coffee and an assortment of cups porcelain, plastic, glass, crystal, some plain looking, some expensive, some exquisite - telling them to help themselves to hot coffee.

When all the students had a cup of coffee in hand, the professor said: "If you noticed, all the nice looking expensive cups were taken up, leaving behind the plain and cheap ones. While it is but normal for you to want only the best for yourselves, that is the source of your problems and stress. What all of you really wanted was coffee, not the cup, but you consciously went for the best cups and were eyeing each other's cups.

Now if life is coffee, then the jobs, money and position in society are the cups. They are just tools to hold and contain Life, but the quality of Life doesn't change. Sometimes, by concentrating only on the cup, we fail to enjoy the coffee in it."

Don't let the cups drive you... Enjoy the coffee instead !

Carpenter

An elderly carpenter was ready to retire. He told his employer-contractor of his plans to leave the house building business and live a more leisurely life with his wife enjoying his extended family: He would miss the paycheck, but he needed to retire. They could get by. The contractor was sorry to see his good worker go and asked if he could build just one more house as a personal favor. The carpenter said yes, but in time it was easy to see that his heart was not in his work. He resorted to shoddy workmanship and uses inferior materials. It was an unfortunate way to end his career. When the carpenter finished his work and the builder came to inspect the house, "This is your house," he said, "my gift to you." What a shock! What a shame! If he had only known he was building his own house, he would have done it all so differently. Now he had to live in the home he had built none too well.

Moral of the story:-
Life is a Do-it-yourself project.

business of life is to enjoy it !*

LOVE

Emotional attachment

An expression of deep, tender feeling of affection

A knowledgeable person makes you realize how wonderful the world is...
But its only a loving person who makes you realize how wonderful you are in the world.

Affection shows human mentality but, situation shows human reality.

Anyone can touch your body, a few will touch your heart, but one will touch your soul.

Better to loved and lost than to have never loved at all.

Chains do not hold people together, it is the thread of love and values which sew them together.

Coffee and love are best when they're hot. - German Proverb

Don't love the cheatable heart & Don't cheat the lovable heart!
- Charlie Chaplin

Everybody love a Rose but Nobody loves a leaf which adds beauty to

Love, Wealth & Success

A woman came out of her house and saw 3 old men with long white beards sitting in her front yard. She did not recognize them. She said, "I don't think I know you, but you must be hungry... Please come in and have something to eat"... "Is the man of the house home?", they asked. "No", she said. "He's out". "Then we cannot come in", they replied.

In the evening when her husband came home, she told him what had happened... Go tell them I am home and invite them in... The woman went out and invited the men in. "We don't go into a house together", they replied.

"Why is that?" she wanted to know. One of the old men explained: "His name is Wealth" he said pointing to one of his friends and said pointing to another one, "He is Success and I am Love".

Then he added, "Now go in and discuss with your husband which one of us you want in your home.

The woman went in and told her husband what was said, Her husband was overjoyed. "How nice", he said!! "Since that is the case, let us invite Wealth. Let him come and fill our home with wealth". His wife disagreed". My dear, why don't we invite Success"?

Their daughter-in-law was listening from the other corner of the house. She jumped in with her own suggestion: "Would it not be better to invite Love...Our home will be filled with Love".

Let us heed our daughter-in-law's advice". Said the husband to his wife "Go out and invite Love to be our guest."

The woman went out and asked the 3 old men, "Which one of you is love? Please come in and be our guest. Love got up and started walking towards the house. The other 2 also got up and followed him. Surprised, the lady asked Wealth and Success: "I only invited Love, why are you coming in?"

The old men replied together : If you had invited Wealth or Success the other two of us would've stayed out, but since you invited Love, wherever he goes we go with him.

Moral of the story :-
Wealth and Success follow LOVE.

A boy was born to a couple after eleven years of marriage. They were a loving couple and the boy was the gem of their eyes. When the boy was around two years old, one morning the husband saw a medicine bottle open. He was late for office so he asked his wife to cap the bottle and keep it in the cupboard. His wife, preoccupied in the kitchen totally forgot the matter. The boy saw the bottle and playfully went to the bottle fascinated by its color and drank it all. It happened to be a poisonous medicine meant for adults in small dosages. When the child collapsed the mother hurried him to the hospital, where he died. The mother was stunned. She was terrified how to face her husband. When the distraught father came to the hospital and saw the dead child, he looked at his wife and uttered just five words.

QUESTIONS :

1. What were the five words ?
2. What is the implication of this story?

ANSWER :

The husband just said "I am with you Darling"

The husband's totally unexpected reaction is a proactive behavior. The child is dead. He can never be brought back to life. There is no point in finding fault with the mother. Besides, if only he had taken time to keep the bottle away, this would not have happened.. No one is to be blamed. She had also lost her only child. What she needed at that moment was consolation and sympathy from the husband. That is what he gave her.

If everyone can look at life with this kind of perspective, there would be much fewer problems in the world. "A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step". Take off all your envies, jealousies, unforgiveness, selfishness, and fears. And you will find things are actually not as difficult as you think.

Expert's Advice

A man who was famous as a tree climber was guiding someone in climbing a tall tree. He ordered the man to cut the top branches, and, during this time, when the man seemed to be in great danger, the expert said nothing. Only when the man was coming down and had reached the height of the eaves did the expert call out, "Be careful! Watch your step coming down!"

I asked him, "Why did you say that? At that height he could jump the rest of the way if he chose." That's the point," said the expert. "As long as the man was up at a dizzy height and the branches were threatening to break, he himself was so afraid I said nothing. Mistakes are always made when people get to the easy places." This man belonged to the lowest class, but his words in perfect accord with the precepts of the sages. In football too, they say that after you have kicked out of a difficult place and you think the one will be easier you are sure to miss the ball.

Moral of the story :-

Mistakes are easy when you are at ease.

MONEY

Assets & Property; Wealth

A Commodity, such as gold, or an officially issued coin or paper note that is legally established as an exchangeable equivalent of all other commodities, such as goods and services, and is used as a measure of their comparative values on the market Richness is not Earning More, Spending More, OR Saving More...

Richness is when you need "NO MORE."

The best investment is to put your money for becoming number one in your field.

There are 2 ways to be rich. One is to have all you want another is to be satisfied with what you have.

There is nothing at all wrong with having money unless money has you.

Too many people spend money they have not earned, to buy things they do not need, to impress people they do not like.

We must make money work for us, or spend the rest of our life working for money.

What is offered for free is dangerous- it usually involves either a trick or a hidden obligation. What has worth is worth paying for. By paying your own way you stay clear of gratitude, guilt and deceit.

Whenever you want to know how rich you are do not count your money just drop a tear from your eye and see how many hands are there to wipe it.

The Miser

A miser, to make sure of his property, sold all that he had and converted it in to a great lump of gold, which he hid in a hole in the ground, and went continually to visit and inspect it. This roused the curiosity of one of his workmen, who, suspecting that there was a treasure, when his master's back was turned, went to the spot, and stole it away. When the miser returned and the found the place empty, he wept and tore his hair. But a neighbor who saw him in this extravagant grief, and learned the cause of it, said: "Fret thyself no longer, but take a stone and put it in the same place, and think that it is your lump of gold; for, as your never meant to use it, the one will do you as much good as the other." Fables, Aesop Century b. C.

Moral of the story :-

The worth of money is not in its possession, but in its use.

Coal to New Castle

A rich man was near death, and was saddened because he had worked so hard for his money, and he wanted to take it with him to heaven. So, he began to pray that he might be able to take some of his wealth along. An angel heard his plea and appeared to him. "Sorry," the angel said, "but you can't take your wealth with you." The man implored the angel to speak to God to see if he might make an allowance. The man continued to pray that his wealth could follow him. The angel reappeared and informed the man that God had decided to allow him to take one suitcase, filled it with pure gold bars, and placed it beside his bed. Soon afterwards the man died and showed up the gates of heaven to greet St. Peter. St. Peter, seeing the suitcase, said, "Hold on, you can't bring that in here!" The man explained to St. Peter that he had permission, and told him to verify his story with God. St. Peter checked and came back saying, "You're right. You are allowed one carry-on bag, I'm supposed to check its contents before letting it through." He opened the suitcase to inspect the worldly items that the man found too precious to leave behind, and exclaimed, "You brought PAVEMENT?"

Money can give you amusement but not happiness a bed but not sleep books but not wisdom
a clock but not more time companions but not friends food but not the appetite a house but not home medicine but not health
the list is endless.

OPPORTUNITY

Chance to do something

A time when a particular situation makes it possible to achieve something

A pessimist is one who finds difficulty in any opportunity. An optimist is one who converts every difficulty into opportunity.

A pessimist who says 'O' is the last letter in ZERO in stead of first letter in Opportunity.

All of us do not have equal talent but all of us have equal opportunity to develop talent.

Alphabet 'O' stands for opportunity which is absent in yesterday, available once in tOday & thrice in tOmOrrOw.

Don't sit down and wait for the opportunities to come; you have to get up and make them.

- Madame C. J. Walker

Drop of Water falls on Lake, loses Identity. Falls on the Lotus, Its Shines, If on Shell, It becomes Pearl, Drop is same but Company matters.

Every problem is just an opportunity waiting to be made use of.

If you ever feel in life that all doors are closed, remember these words, "Closed door is not always locked."

If you miss an opportunity, do not cloud your eyes with tears. Keep your vision clear so that you will not miss the next one.

- Brahma Kumaris

It is better to be prepared for an opportunity and not have one than to have an opportunity and not be prepared.

Life does not provide warranties and guarantees. It only provides possibilities. Do not miss them.

Life is like a flowing river of opportunities, it is up to you to stand up with a bucket or spoon.

Lucky means who get the opportunity, Brilliant means who create the opportunity, Winner means who use the opportunity.

Open the windows of your mind and let the wind of opportunities come in.

Opportunities are in abundance, takers are few because it requires vision and wisdom for right selection of opportunity. - Hemant C. Lodha

Opportunities are always bigger on their way out than on their way in.

Opportunities are like ice, grab it before it melts.

Opportunities are like morning dew, to catch one you have to wake up early while the world is busy in sleeping.

Opportunities are often things you haven't noticed the first time around.

Opportunities to find deeper powers within ourselves comes when life seems most challenging.

Opportunity dances with those who are already on the dance floor.

Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls & looks like work. It often comes in the form of misfortune, or temporary defeat.

Opportunity may knock only once, but temptation leans on the doorbell.

People Say:-"Success Knocks Your Door Once".. But Achievers Say "Knock The Door Of Failure Till You Meet Success..."

Small opportunities are often the beginnings of great enterprises. - Demosthenes

Success has only one formula. "Stop thinking in terms of limitations and start searching for possibilities."

The opportunities are there all the time. It is our burning desire that enables us to see them.

Own land by walking in a day

There is a story about a wealthy farmer who was once offered all the land he could walk on in a day. Provided he came back by sundown to the point where he started. To get a head start, early the next morning the farmer started covering ground quickly because he wanted to get as much land as he could. Even though he was tired, he kept going all afternoon because he didn't want to miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to gain more wealth.

Late in the afternoon he realized the condition he had to fulfill to get the land was to get back to the starting point by sundown. His greed had gotten him far enough. He started his return journey, keeping an eye on how close he was to sundown. The closer it got to sundown, the faster he ran. He was exhausted, out of breath and pushed himself beyond the point and died. He did make it before sundown. He buried and all the land he needed was a small plot.

Master of human destinies am I;
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait.
Cities and fields I walk. I penetrate Deserts and seas remote, and, passing by Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late,
I knock unbidden once at every gate.
If sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise, before
I turn away. It is the hour of fate,
And they who follow me reach every state
Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
Save death; but those who hesitate
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain, and uselessly implore.
I answer not, and I return no more.

- John James Ingalls

OPTIMISM

A tendency to expect the best possible outcome or dwell on the most hopeful aspects of a situation

A pessimist is one who feels bad when things are good and he'll feel worse when things are better.

An optimist see a glass as half full. A true optimist sees even an empty glass as a vessel open to possibilities.

An optimist think that this is the best possible world. A pessimist fears that this is true.

An optimist uses the language of positive affirmation. He will be on time instead of saying "I won't be late."

Darkest Time Of Day Is Minute Before Sunrise , So When We Feel We Are At Darkest Moment In Life, Remember Sunrise Is Just A Minute Away.

For pessimist Life is so confusing- what he want don't get, he is not satisfied with what he got, what he expect never happens & what he hate generally repeats !

NEGATIVE person sees only 1 DAY between 2 Nights. While, POSITIVE person Considers there is one night between TWO DAYS.

No pessimist ever discovered the secret of the stars, or sailed to an uncharted land, or opened a new doorway for the human spirit.

Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement. Nothing can be done without hope or confidence.
- Helen Keller

Optimism to achievement and it is also the foundation of courage and true progress.

Optimist laughs to forget. Pessimist forget to laugh.

Optimist radiate positive energy, pessimists are without any energy.
- Hemant C. Lodha

OPTIMIST: A person who while falling from EIFFEL TOWER says in midway "SEE I AM NOT INJURED YET!"

The Pessimist complains about the wind; The Optimist expects it to change...and The Realist adjusts the sail.
- William Arthur Ward

The tough minded optimist views any problem as a challenge to his intelligence and ingenuity. He knows there is a solution and so he finally finds it.

To the optimist all doors have handles and hinges, To the pessimist all doors have locks and latches.

When the grass looks greener on the other side of the fence, it may be that they take better care of it there. - Cecil Selig

Dog Who can Walk on Water

There was a hunter who bought a bird dog, the only one of its kind in the world, wish could walk on water. He couldn't believe his eyes when he saw this miracle. At the same time, he was very pleased that he could show off his new acquisition to his friends. He invited a friend to go duck hunting. After some time ,they saw a few ducks and the man ordered his dog to run and fetch the birds. All day long, the dog ran on water and kept fetching the birds. The owner was expecting a comment or a compliment about this amazing dog, but never got one. As they were returning home, he asked his friend if he had noticed anything unusual about his dog. The friend replied, "Yes, in fact, I did notice something unusual. Your dog can't swim."

Sentenced to Death

The Sultan (of Persia) had sentenced two men to death. One of them, knowing how much the Sultan loved his stallion, offered to teach the horse to fly within a year in return for his life. The Sultan, fancying himself as the rider of the only flying horse in the world, agreed. The other prisoner looked at his friend in disbelief. "You know horses don't fly. What made you come up with a crazy idea like that? You're only postponing the inevitable." "Not so," said the first prisoner. "I have actually given myself four chances for freedom. First the Sultan might die during the year. Second, I might die. Third the horse might die. And fourth ... I might teach the horse to fly!"

PATIENCE

The capacity, quality, or fact of being patient, tolerant

Capable of calmly awaiting an outcome or a result; not hasty or impulsive

A man who is master of patience is master of everything else.

A moment of patience in a moment of anger can help you avoid a thousand moments of sorrow.

Always seem patient, as if you know that everything will come to you eventually.

Beware the fury of a patient man. - John Dryden

Controlling thought is prerequisite of learning patience.

If you are patient in one moment of anger, you will escape a hundred days of sorrow. - Chinese Proverb

Life is all about timing...the unreachable becomes reachable, the unavailable becomes available, the unattainable becomes attainable. Have the patience, wait it out. It's all about timing.

Never seem to be in a hurry. Hurrying betrays a lack of control over yourself, and over the time.

Patience and persistence leads to profits. - Hemant C. Lodha

Patience In Planning And Impatience In Execution always Creates Miracles.

Patience is a flower that grows not in everyone's garden. - Italian Proverb

Patience is a tree whose root is bitter, but its fruit is very sweet. - Canadian Proverb

Patience is not much about waiting but it is about how one behaves while waiting.

Patience is the ability to put up with people you'd like to put down. - Ulrike Ruffert

Patience is toughest but only road to victory.

Patience make you mentally strong, silence makes you emotionally strong.

Patience of a good person is powerful than anger of thousands fools.

The art of PATIENCE is not about how long one can wait, but it's about how one behaves while waiting.

There are no shortcuts to any place worth going. - Beverly Sills

There is not a tree in heaven higher than the tree of patience.
- Irish Proverb

To be kind is more important than to be right. Often people need a patient heart that listen than a brilliant mind that speaks.

When everybody else is running, that's the time to walk.

Winning to patience to achieve the goal is more thought to achieving the goal itself.

Looking for Gold

As a young Scots boy, Andrew Carnegie came to America and started doing odd jobs. He ended up as one of the largest steel manufacturers in the United States. At one time he had 43 millionaires working for him. Several decades ago, a million dollars used to be a lot of money; even today it is a lot of money. Someone asked Mr. Carnegie how he dealt with people? Andrew Carnegie replied, "Dealing with people is like digging gold: When you go digging for an ounce of gold, you have to move tons of dirt to get an ounce of gold. But when you go digging, you don't go looking for the dirt, you go looking for the gold."

patience is a virtue...

PERSISTENCE

Determination to succeed even in adverse condition

The fact of continuing to try to do something despite of difficulties

Achievement comes from ordinary abilities applied with extraordinary persistence.

All good work is done the way ants do the things, little by little.

- Lafcadio Hearn

Being defeated is temporary, giving up is permanent !

Don't ever get tired until you make the last attempt & Don't ever make the last attempt until you are Successful.

For any outstanding achievement, persistence is a common ingredient.

Have patience and faith and keep doing the right thing. Even though result may not be visible, something is happening.

Wilma Rudolph

Wilma Rudolph was born in a poor home in Tennessee. At the age of four, she had double pneumonia with scarlet fever, a deadly combination that left her paralyzed with polio. She had to wear braces and the doctor said she would never put her foot on the earth. But her mother encouraged her; she told Wilma that with god given ability, persistence and faith she could do anything she wanted. Wilma said, "I want to be the fastest woman on the track on this earth."

At the age of nine, against the advice of the doctors, she removed the brace and took the first step the doctor had said she never would.

At the age of 13, she entered her first, and second and third race and came way, way last until a day came when she came in first.

At the age of 15 she went to Tennessee State University told him, I want to be the fastest woman on the track on this earth. "Temple said, "with your spirit nobody can stop you and besides, I will help you." The day came when she was at the Olympics and at the Olympics you are matched with the best of the best. Wilma was matched against a woman name Jutta Heine who had never been beaten.

The first event was the 10-meter race. Wilma beat Jutta Heine and won her first gold medal. Second event was the 200-meter race and Wilma beat Jutta a second time and won her second gold medal. The third event was the 400-meter relay and she was racing against Jutta one more time. In the relay, the fastest person always runs the last lap and they both anchored their teams.

The first three people ran and changed the baton easily. When it came to Wilma's turn, she dropped the baton, but Wilma saw Jutta shoot up at the other end; she picked the baton, ran like a machine, beat Jutta a third time and won her third gold medal. It became history; that a paralytic woman became the fastest woman on this earth at the 1960 Olympics.

Polite Dinner

There are two polite people having dinner together. On the table there is a dish with one big piece of fish and one small piece of fish. They politely say to each other: "You may choose first." "No, you may choose first." And this goes on for a while. Then the first person says: "OK, I'll take first." And he takes the BIG piece of fish. The second person: "Way did you take the big piece? That's not polite!" The first person says: "Which piece would you have taken?" The second person replies: "Why, I would have taken the SMALL piece, of course." The first person says: "Well, that's what you have now!"

If people ask me, I always tell them:
"Quite well, thank you, I'm very glad to say."
If people ask me, I always answer,
"Quite well, thank you, how are you to-day?"
I always answer, I always tell them,
If they ask me Politely.....
BUT SOMETIMES
I wish That they wouldn't.

The Eagle That Wasn't

The eagle's egg was placed in the nest of a prairie chicken. The egg hatched and the little eagle grew up thinking it was a prairie chicken. The eagle did what the prairie chickens did. It scratched in the dirt for seeds. It clucked and cackled. It never flew more than a few feet because that is what the prairie chickens did. One day it saw an eagle flying gracefully and majestically in the open sky and asked the prairie chickens: "What is that beautiful birds?" The chicken replied, "That is an eagle. They are an outstanding birds, but you cannot fly like them because you are just a prairie chicken," so the eagle never gave it a second thought, believing that to be the truth. It lived the life of and died a prairie chicken. Depriving himself of its heritage because of lack of vision. What a waste! It was born to win, but was conditioned to lose.

Big Rocks

One day, an expert in time management was speaking to a group of business students and, to drive home a point, used an illustration those students will never forget. As he stood in front of the group of high-powered over achievers he said, "Okay, time for a quiz" and he pulled out a one-gallon, wide-mouth jar and set it on the table in front of him. He also produced about a dozen fist-sized rocks and carefully placed them, one at a time, in the jar. When the jar was filled to the top and no more rocks would fit inside, he asked, "Is this jar full?" Everyone in the class yelled, "Yes."

The time management expert replied, "Really?" He reached under the table and pulled out a bucket of gravel. He dumped some gravel in and shook the jar causing pieces of gravel to work themselves down in to the spaces between the big rocks. He then asked the group once more, "Is the jar full?" By this time the class was on to him. "Probably not," one of them answered. "Good!" he replied. He reached under the table and brought out a bucket of sand. He started dumping the sand in the jar and it went in to all of the spaces left between the rocks and the gravel.

Once more he asked the question, "Is this jar full?" "No!" the class shouted. Once again he said, "Good." Then he grabbed a pitcher of water and began to pour it in until the jar was filled to the brim. Then he looked at the class and asked, "What is the point of this illustration?" One eager beaver raised his hand and said, "The point is, no matter how full your schedule is, if you try really hard you can always fit some more thing in it!"

"No," the speaker replied, "That's not the point. The truth this illustration teaches us is: If you don't put the big rocks in first, you'll never get them in at all."

What are the "BIG ROCKS" in your lifetime? Your loved ones, your faith, your education, your dreams, a worthy cause, teaching or mentoring others?

Remember to put these BIG ROCKS in first or you'll never get them in at all.

Animals' School

Some animals in a forest decided to start a school. The students included a bird, a squirrel, a fish, a dog, a rabbit and a mentally retarded eel. A board was formed and it was decided that flying, tree climbing, swimming, and burrowing would be a part of the curriculum in order to give a broad based education. All animals were required to take all subjects. The bird was excellent at flying but when it came to burrowing, it kept breaking, it kept breaking its beak and wings and started failing. Pretty soon, it started making Cs in flying and of course in tree climbing and swimming it was getting Fs. The squirrel was great at tree climbing and was getting As, but was failing in swimming. The fish was the best swimming. The fish was the best swimmer but couldn't get out of the water and got Fs in everything else. The dog didn't join the school, stopped paying taxes and kept fighting with the administration to include barking as part of the curriculum. The rabbit got As in burrowing but tree climbing was a real problem. It kept falling and landing on its head, suffered brain damage, and soon couldn't even burrow properly and got Cs in that too. The mentally retarded eel, which did everything half as well, became the valedictorian of the class. The board was happy because everybody was getting a broad-based education.

RELATIONSHIP

A particular type of connection existing between people related to or having dealings with each other

A relationship doesn't shine just by shaking hands in best times but it blossoms by holding hand firmly in critical situation.

Assumptions are termites of relationship.

Bends are better than breaks in relationship.

Best Relations Are Like A Pair Of Scissors, Joint Together Often Go In Opposite Directions But They Punish TOGETHER The One Who Comes Between Them.

Big fights usually breaks relations but minor misunderstanding spoil relations & the fact is that spoiled relations are more painful than the broken one.

Closest Relationship in the world fought more battles than enemies.

Cry with someone. It is more healing than crying alone.

Do not care for some one to the extent that you miss the other but care to that extent that the other doesn't wish to lose you.

Do you know relation between two eyes? They blink together, they move, cry and see things together but still they never see each other. That's brotherhood.

Every relationship is like a glass. A scratch on any side will reflect on the other side.

Good heart can win many relationship but Good nature can sustain life long relationship.

Good relations are like tree. They demand attention & care in the beginning. Once they blossom, they provide shelter when needed.

Good relationships are hard to find and once developed should be nurtured.

If you want the relationship to work, take personal responsibility for making it work.

If you want to build a relationship, build it on what endures. To build on a firm foundation, we have to stop asking, "what do I like?" and ask only, what can I give?

In relationship give weightage to affection than perfection.

In relationship occupy the space given, don't encroach.

- Hemant C. Lodha

In relationship we can choose only one, either expectations or happiness.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Keep things in your heart which hurts other, but never hurt others by keeping something in your heart.

Life is not about finding the right person but creating right relationship. It is not how much we care in the beginning but how much we care till end.

Loneliness is often the result of the one's lack of ability to communicate.

- Brahma Kumaris

Making relation is as easy as writing sand on the sand but maintaining relation is as difficult as writing W on the water.

Nice Relationships Are Like The Breathing Air you Will Never See Them, But you Will Always Feel Their Presence.

Often we try build relationships on what is pleasing to us, particularly on physical attraction. But if there is anything sure about physical attraction, it is that it is that it has to change.

One beautiful heart is better than thousand beautiful faces.

- Shakespear

People are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges.

Relation and medicine play same role in our life. Both care for us in pain but relationship does not have an expiry date.

Relation mean when some one hurt us we don't hurt back but same one need us we are always there to back.

Relationship don't last because of passion and love but because of commitment and empathy.

Relationship is not to have someone who Might Complete you, but someone With Whom you Might Share your Incompleteness.

Relationship should have the determination like sandal wood, which never loses its fragrance even if it is broken into thousand pieces.

Relationship of all kinds are like sand held in your hand. Held loosely with an open hand the sand remains where it is. The minute you close your hand & squeeze tightly to hold on, the sand trickles through your fingers. A relationship is like that. Held loosely, with respect and freedom for the other person, it is likely to remain intact. But hold too tightly and the relationship slips away & is lost.

Relationships Are Like Stapling A Paper. Its Easy to Attach but Difficult to Detach. And if You Try to Detach, it Leaves The Paper "Damaged".

Relationships based on falsehood are like house built with their foundation of mud. - Brahma Kumaris

Relationships like Tajmahal, everybody will wonder how beautiful it is, but one need to understand how difficult it was to build !!

Remember that the best relationship is one where you love for each other is greater than your need for each other.

Some one who can't accept you at your worst.., has no rights to be with you at your best..!

STRENGTH grows when we dare, UNITY grows when we cheer, LOVE grows when we share, & RELATIONSHIP grows when we care.

There are two ways to run a relationship, like a team or like a contest.

Things which live after death. Brain-10 mins, Eyes-31 mins, Legs-4 hrs, Skin-5days, Bones-30days & RELATIONSHIP forever.

To give pleasure to a single heart by a single act is better than a thousand heads bowing in prayer.- Mahatma Gandhi

To win a fight in a ring, YOU should be a good wrestler. But To win a fight in a relation, YOU must be a good loser !!

Too often we underestimate the power of a touch, a smile, a kind word a listening ear an honest compliment, or the smallest act of caring, all of which have the potential to build relationships.

What makes some people dearer? It is not just the happiness that you feel when you meet them but the pain you feel when you miss them.

When loved one hurts, it is In-tension not intention.

Alfred Nobel

About the hundred year ago, a man looked at the morning newspaper and to his surprise and horror, read his name in the obituary column. The newspapers had reported the death of the wrong person by mistake. His first response was shock. Am I here or there? When he regained his composure, His second thought was to find out what people had said about him.

The obituary read "Dynamite King Dies." And also "He was merchant of death." This man was the inventor of dynamite and when he read the words "merchant of death," he asked himself a question, "Is this how I am going to be remembered?" he got in touch with his feelings and decided that this was not the way he wanted to be remembered. From that day on, he started working towards peace. His name was Alfred Nobel and he is remembered today by the great Nobel Prize.

Moral of the story :-

Relationship is not natural, it has to be created.

REPUTATION

The general estimation in which a person is held by the public

A specific characteristic or trait ascribed to a person or thing

A bad wound may heal, but a bad name will kill. - Scottish Proverb

Achievers need not to expose them, their achievements will expose them.

Associate yourself with people of good quality if you esteem your reputation, for it is better to be alone than to be in bad company.

- George Washington

Behave in such a way so that our dignity protect us rather than we protect our dignity.

Create reputation through scarcity. Too much circulation makes the price go down. If you are already established in a group, temporary withdrawal from it will make you more talked about, even more admired. You must learn when to leave.

Don't run your life in such a way that people will want your fingerprint Instead of your autograph.

Everything is judged by it's a appearance; what are unseen counts for nothing. Never let yourself get lost in the crowd. Stand out. Be conscious at all cost. Make your self a magnet of attention by appearing larger, more colourful, and more mysterious than the bland and timid masses.

If you want to shine like sun first you have to burn like it.

It is better to be honourable than to be honoured ?

It is good to stand on ground and watch up high at your aim....but it is best when you stand up high and others watch you as their aim.

It is not important that the man goes to heaven after death, what important is that he creates heaven where he goes.

Learning history is easy but making history is difficult.

Make your reputation unassailable. Always be alert to potential attacks.

Our reputation travels much faster than us.

Perceptions are more powerful than facts.

Reputation is a perception hence create right perceptions in the mind of others about your image.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Reputation is the cornerstone of power. Though reputation alone you can intimidate and win; once it slips, you are vulnerable and will be attacked on all sides.

Reputation is what you are in the light; character is what you are in the dark.

You are not responsible for what people think about you. But you are responsible for what you give them to think about you.

You can't build a reputation by tearing down others.

You can't build a reputation on what you're going to do. - Henry Ford

You don't get a second chance to make a first impression.

You have two things in this world...your name and your word... no one can take them away from you, but you.

REPUTATION

Your outlook determines your outcome.

Your respect is not in the words spoken to you in your presence, but words spoken for you in your absence.

Shepherd Boy

We all know the story of the shepherd boy who cried wolf. The boy decided to have some fun at the expense of the villagers. He shouted, "Help, help, the wolf is here," The villagers heard him and came to his rescue. But when they got there, they saw no wolf and the boy played the same trick and the same thing happened.

The one day, while the boy was taking care of his sheep he actually saw a wolf and shouted for help. The people in the village heard him but his time nobody came to his rescue. They thought it was another trick and didn't trust him anymore. He lost his sheep to the wolf.

Moral of the story :-

Trust is the foundation for Reputation.

A facial expression indicating happiness

If you are not using your smile, Then you are a person with million dollars in the bank having no cheque book.

A smile is a gently curved line that sets lot of things straight.

and I started smiling too.

I passed around the corner,
when someone saw my grin.
he started smiling,
and I realized I passed it on to him.

I thought about that smile,
then I realized its worth.
a single smile, just like mine, could travel 'round the earth!

so if you feel a smile begin, don't leave it undetected.
let's start an epidemic quick,
and get the world infected!

The Sun of the Wind

The wind and the sun had a debate about their respective power and which one was the greater. Spotting a man walking up a country lane they made a wager on who could get the man to take his coat off. The wind went first and blew his hardest against the man. The more the wide blew the tighter the coat was clenched against his body. Soon the had it buttoned up so completely that only his nose stuck out. The wind backed off, defeated. The sun, in contrast, smiled warmth upon the traveler. It wasn't very long before the button began to be removed from the holes, soon the coat itself was draped over the man's arm and he was wiping his brow with a handkerchief.

Moral of the story :-

Use smile to influence, not power.

S The gaining of fame or prosperity

S The achievement of something desired, planned or attempted

Clark Gable

A friend named Gable visit one afternoon at the actor's home. She brought along her small son, who amused himself by playing with toy cars on the floor. He pretended he was racing those cars around a great track, in reality was an imaginary circle around the golden statuette. The small statue the boy played with was actually the Oscar Clark Gable won for his performance in the 1934 movie IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT.

When his mother told him the time had come to leave, the little boy asked the actor, "Can I have this?" pointing to the Oscar. "Sure," he smiled. "It's yours." The horrified mother objected. "put that back immediately!" Giving the child the golden statue, Clark Gable said, "Having the Oscar around doesn't mean anything to me; earning it does." The actor seemed to know that past success can be a comfortable hammock upon which he may be tempted to rest, rather than a springboard launching him to the next level.

Two things indicate weakness... one to be silent when it is proper time to speak second to speak when it is the time to be silent.

Unless we speak from our Heart, we can't touch anyone's Heart.

Water and words - easy to pour. Impossible to recover. Conserve both.

We are born with our eyes closed and our mouth open and we spend our whole life trying to reverse that mistake of nature.

We are born with two eyes in front because we must not always look behind, but see what lies ahead. We are born to have two ears-one left, one right, so we can hear both sides, collect both the compliments and criticisms, to see which are right. We are born with only one tongue, so we talk less.

Weigh before you say.

- Indian Proverb

When people don't talk to you, they are trying to tell you something.

When you agree with people who gossip, you will be the next one they slander.
- Brahma Kumaris

When you are trying to impress people with words, the more you say, the more common you appear, and the less in control.

When you have the ability to listen anything without losing your temper or self confidence, you are a complete man.

Words Are Under Your Control Until You Speak, But You Come Under Their Control Once Spoken..!!

Words do not have power to hurt you unless the person who said it means a lot to you.

Words do not have wings but they can fly thousand miles.

Words once spoken & hearts once broken are hard things to repair.

Words that enlighten the soul are more precious than jewels.

The craft of powder, R. G. H. Siu, 1979

After 21 years of marriage, my wife wanted me to take another woman out to dinner and a movie. She said, "I love you, but I know his other woman loves you and would love to spend some time with you." The other woman that my wife wanted me to visit was my MOTHER, Who has been a widow for 19 years, but the demands of my work and my three children had made it possible to visit her only occasionally. That night I called to invite her to go out for dinner and a movie. "What's wrong, are you well"? she asked. My mother is the type of woman who suspects that a late night call or a surprise invitation is a sign of bad news. "I thought that it would be pleasant to spend some time with you," I responded, "Just the two of us." She thought about it for a moment, and then said, "I would like that very much."

That Friday after work, as I drove over to pick her up I was a bit nervous. When I arrived at her house, I noticed that she, too, seemed to be nervous about our date. She waited in the door with her coat on. She had curled her hair and was wearing the dress that she had worn to celebrate her last wedding anniversary. She smiled from a face that was as radiant as an angel's. "I told my friends that I was going to go out with my son, and they were impressed," she said, as she got on to the car. "They can't wait to hear about our meeting." We went to a restaurant that, although not elegant, was very nice and cozy.

My mother took my arm as if she were the First Lady. After we sat down, I had to read the menu. Her eyes could only read large print. Half way through the entries, I lifted my eyes and saw Mom sitting there staring at me. A nostalgic smile was on her lips." she said. "Them it's time that you relax and let me return the favor," I responded. During the dinner, we had an agreeable events of each other's life. We talked so much that we missed the movie. As we arrived at her house later, she said, "I'll go out with you again, but only if you let me invite you." I agreed.

"How was your dinner date?" asked my wife when I got home. "Very nice, Much more so than I could have imagined," I answered. A few days later, my mother died of a massive heart attack. It happened so suddenly that I didn't have a chance to do anything for her. Some time later, I received an envelope with a copy of a restaurant receipt from the same place mother and I had dined. An attached note said: "I paid this bill in advance. I wasn't sure that I could be there; but nevertheless, I paid for two plates one for you and the other for your wife. You will never know what that night meant for me. I love you, son." At that movement, I understood the important of saying in time: "I LOVE YOU" and to give our loved ones the time that they deserve. Nothing in life is more important than your family. Give them the time they deserve, because these things cannot be put of till "some another times."

keep them short and sweet...
because you'll never know from day to day which ones you'll have to eat!

THOUGHTS

The act or process of thinking

To weigh or consider an idea

The faculty of thinking or reasoning

To bring a thought to mind by imagination or invention

Two Brothers

This is a story of two brothers; one, a drug addict and a drunk who frequently beat up his family. The other one was a very successful businessman who was respected in society and had a wonderful family. Some people wanted to find out why two brothers from the same parents, brought up in the same environment, could be so different.

The first one was asked. "How came you do what you do? You are a drug addict, a drunk, and you beat your family. What motivates you?" He said, "My father," They asked, "What about your father?" The reply was, my father was a drug addict, and a drunk and he beat his family. What do you expect me to be? That is what I am. They went to the brother who was doing every thing right and asked him the same question. "How come you are doing everything right? What is your sources of motivation?" And guess what he said? "My father. When I was a little boy , I used to see my dad drunk and doing all the wrong things. I made up my mind that is not what I wanted to be. "Both were driving their strength and motivation from the same source, but one was using it positively and the other negatively.

Time is like a river - it flows by and doesn't return. - Chinese Proverb

Time is like a river you can not touch same water again.

TIME

Time is the most elastic element. It lengthens the minutes when you wait and shorten the hours when you are having fun.

Time is the scarcest resource, unless it is managed nothing else can be managed.

We kill time; time buries us.

- Machado De Assis

A stranger was seated next to a little girl on an airplane that was leaving Chicago O'Hare. The stranger turned to her and said, "Let's talk. I've heard that flights go quicker if you strike up a conversation with your fellow passenger."

The little girl, who had just opened her book, closed it slowly and said to the stranger, "What would you like to talk about?"

Oh, I don't know", said the stranger, "How about nuclear power? "

"OK", she said. "That could be an interesting topic. But let me ask you a question first. A horse, a cow, and a deer all eat grass, the same stuff. Yet a deer excretes little pellets, while a cow turns out a flat patty, and a horse produces clumps of dried grass. Why do you suppose that is?"

"The stranger thinks about it and says, "Hmmm, I have no idea."

The little girl then asks, "Do you really feel qualified to discuss nuclear power when you don't know shit? "

Time will surely pass by, as it waits for nothing and none.

Time will erode fast even if you defy, and you can not hold onto opportunities gone.

Do not be wavered with forecasted problems and pain, time is slow if you grieve, yet faster if you fear and be fickle.
everyday is a fresh new beginning so hold heart and begin again, it is foolish to look back, as tomorrow your garden will bloom with flowers ample.

Faith in others

The belief that somebody is good, sincere, honest and will not harm

A bird sitting on the branch is not afraid of the branch shaking or breaking because the bird trusts not the branch but its wings.

Best relations don't need any promises, terms or conditions. They just need two wonderful people "one who can trust and one who can understand".

He who lies once is never believed again.

- Polish Proverb

Honesty in-behaviour is foundation of trust. And trust is foundation of strong relationship.

If you trust some one trust till the end. In the end either you will have a very good friend or a very good lesson.

Life is at its weakest when there are more doubts than trust but life is at its strongest when you learn to trust in spite of the doubts.

Love many; trust few and always paddle your own boat.

-Abraham Lincoln

Never break for things in life. Trust, relation, promise & heart. When they break they do not make any noise but pains a lot.

- Charles Dickens

Nothing is greater than TRUST.

Person who trust self, secure trust of others.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Sorry works for mistakes not for trust broken.

The chief lesson I have learned in a long life is that the only way to make a man trustworthy is to trust him; and the surest way to make him untrustworthy is to distrust him and show your mistrust.

- Henry L Stimson

Those who cannot believe in themselves cannot believe in anything else.

Trust in many ways is a much greater compliment than love. Often, there are people in our lives whom we love but cannot trust.

TRUST is the easiest thing in the world to lose and the hardest thing to get back.

Trust on your own wings rather than the strength of the branch on which you are sitting.

Trust people till they let you down. And you will be quite surprised that they don't let you down.

Trust your hope not your fear.

Trusting a person is giving someone the ability to destroy you completely.... But with the confidence that he won't.

Trusting yourself will not make mountain small but it will make climbing easier.

We may not always trust the person we love but we can always love the person we trust.

Whenever you lie or cheat the person who loves you, Don't think they are fools to believe you. They hide their feelings because they don't like to disappoint you.

The Story of Huh Saeng

In a lowly thatched cottage in the Namsan Valley there lived a poor couple, Mr. and Mrs. Huh Saeng. The husband confined himself for seven years and only read books in his cold room.

One day his wife, all in tears, said to him: "Look here, my good man! What is the use of all your book reading? I have spent my youth in washing and sewing for other people and yet I have no spare jacket or skirt to wear and I have had no food to eat during the past three days. I am hungry and cold. I can stand it no more!"

Hearing these words, the middle-aged scholar closed his book... rose to his feet and.. Without saying another word, he went out of the door... Arriving in the heart of the city, he stopped a passing gentleman. "Hello, my friend! Who is the richest man in town?" "Poor countryman! Don't you know Byonssi, the millionaire? His glittering tile-roofed house pierced by twelve gates is just over there. " Huh Saeng bent his steps to the rich man's house.

Having entered the big gate, he flung the guest-room door open and addressed the host: "I need 10,000 yang as capital for my commercial business and I want you to lend me the money. " "Alright, sir. Where shall I send the money?" "To the Ansong Market in care of a commission merchant." "Very well, sir. I will draw on Kim, who does the biggest commission business in the Ansong Market. You'll get the money there. "Good-bye, sir."

When Huh Saeng was gone, all the other guests in the room asked Byonssi why he gave so much money to a beggar like stranger whose family name was unknown to him. But the rich man replied with a triumphant face: "Even though he was in ragged clothes, he spoke clearly to the point without betraying shame or inferiority, unlike common people who want to borrow money for a bad debt. Such a man as he is either mad or self-confident, in doing business. But judging from his dauntless eyes and booming voice he is a man, an uncommon man with a superhuman brain, worthy of my trust. I know money and I know men. Money often makes a man small, but a man like him makes big money. I am only glad to have helped a big man do big business."

A man once visited a temple under construction where he saw a sculptor making an idol of God. Suddenly he noticed a similar idol lying nearby.

Surprised, he asked the sculptor, "Do you need two statues of the same idol?" "No," said the sculptor without looking up, "We need only one, but the first one got damaged at the last stage."

The gentleman examined the idol and found no apparent damage. "Where is the damage?" he asked.

"There is a scratch on the nose of the idol." said the sculptor, still busy with his work.

"Where are you going to install the idol?"

The sculptor replied that it would be installed on a pillar twenty feet high.

"If the idol is that far, who is going to know that there is a scratch on the nose?" the gentleman asked.

The sculptor stopped his work, looked up at the gentleman, smiled and said, "I will know it."

The two Frogs

Two frogs dwelt in the same pool. The pool being dried up under the summer's heat, they left it, and set out together to seek another home. As they went along they chanced to pass a deep well, amply supplied with water, on seeing which one of the frogs said to the other: "Let us descend and make our abode in this well, it will furnish us with shelter and food." The other replied with greater caution: " But suppose the water should fail us, how can we get out again from so great a depth?"

Moral of the Story :-

Do nothing without a regard to the consequences.

Division of 19 Horses

One rich man owned 19 horses when he died. In his last will and testament he had written that upon his death. Half the horses he owned should go to his only son; one fourth to the village temple and one fifth to the faithful servant. The village elders could not stop scratching their heads. How can they give half of the 19 horse to the son? You can not cut up a horse. They puzzled over this dilemma for more than two weeks and then decided to send for a wise man how was living in a neighboring village. The wise man came riding on his horse and asked the villagers if he could be of any help to them. The village elders told him about the rich man's last will and testament which stated that half of the (19) horses must be given to his only son, one fourth must go to the temple and one fifth to the faithful servant. The wise man said he would immediately solve their problems without any delay whatsoever. He had the 19 horses placed in a row standing next to one another.

Then he added his own horse as the 20th horse. Now he went about giving half of the 20 horses that is ten horses to the son. One fourth of 20- that is 5 horses were given to the temple committee. One fifth of twenty that is 4 horses were given the faithful servant. Ten plus five plus four made 19 horses. The remaining 20th horse was his own his own which he promptly mounted, spoke a few inspiring words, road back home. The villagers were simply dumbfounded, full of disbelief and filled with admiration. And the parting words of the wise man were inscribed in their hearts and minds, which they greatly cherished in their hearts and minds, which they greatly cherished and passed on to their succeeding generations till today.

Moral of the Story :-

Work v/s Love

A man came home from work late again, tired and irritated, and found his 5-years old son waiting for him at the door. Daddy, may I ask you a question? "Yeah, sure, what is it?" replied the man. "Daddy, how much money do you make an hour?" "That's none of your business. What makes you ask such a thing?" the man said angrily. "I just want to know. Please tell me, how much do you make an hour?" pleaded the little boy. "You must know, I make $20.00 an hour. "Oh," the little boy replied, head bowed. Looking up, he said, "Daddy, may I borrow $10.00 please?" The father was furious. "If the only reason you want to know how much money I make is just so you can borrow some to buy a silly toy or some other nonsense, then you march yourself straight to your room and go to bed. Think about why you're being so selfish. I work long, hard hours everyday and don't have time for such childish games." The little boy quietly went to his room and shut the door. The man sat down and started to get even madder about the little boy's questioning. How dare he ask such questions only to get some money.

After an hour or so, the man had calmed down, and started to think he may have been a little hard on his son. Maybe there was something he really needed to buy with that $10.00 and he really didn't ask for money very often. The man went to the door of the little boy's room and opened the door. "Are you asleep son?" he asked. "No daddy, I'm awake," replied the boy. "I've been thinking, may be I was to hard on you earlier," said the man. "It's been a long day and I took my aggravation out on you. Here's that $10.00 you asked for." The little boy sat straight up, beaming. "Oh, thank you daddy" he yelled. Then, reaching under his pillow, he pulled out some more crumpled up bills. The man, seeing that the boy already had money, started to get angry again. The little boy slowly counted out his money, then looked up at the man.

To keep thinking about unpleasant things or problems

To make somebody anxious about

As Cold Water And Warm Iron Takes Away The Wrinkles of Clothes.. A Cool Mind And a Warm Heart Takes away The Worries Of people.

Do not let your heart be a dust bin to dump all worries and sadness but let it be a treasure box to preserve happiness.

Heart is not a dustbin to dump all the worries of your life. It is a golden pot for collection of sweet moments of your life.

If a problem can be solved, then there's no need for worrying. If a problem cannot be solved, then what's the use of worrying. Be Happy.

It doesn't pay to worry. Most things that happen are out of your control. If it's good, it won't last, and if it's bad, it's bound to get better.

Never worry about delay in success compared to others because construction of Pyramid takes more time than ordinary building.

There is a great difference between worry and concern- While a worried person SEES a problem, a concerned person SOLVES the problem.

We should not worry about next generation that they are not listening to us; BUT we should worry that they are observing us.

We spend most of our time worrying about things that never happen.

Worries are like birds, let them fly over you but do not make them build nest on your head.

Worry and unhappiness are twin sisters, always like to live together.

- Hemant C. Lodha

Worry cannot add a single moment to our life rather it takes away life from the moment.

Worry is interest paid on trouble before it is due.

Worry is like a rocking chair. It will give you something to do, but it won't get you anywhere.

Worrying does not reduce yesterday's sorrow but it empties today's strength.

Worrying doesn't solve tomorrow's troubles but it takes away today's peace.

One day a farmer's donkey fell down into a well. The animal cried piteously for hours as the farmer tried to figure out what to do. Finally, he decided the animal was old, and the well needed to be covered up anyway; it just wasn't worth it to retrieve the donkey.

He invited all his neighbours to come over and help him. They all grabbed a shovel and began to shovel dirt into the well. At first, the donkey realized what was happening and cried horribly. Then, to everyone's amazement he quieted down.

A few shovel loads later, the farmer finally looked down the well. He was astonished at what he saw. With each shovel of dirt that hit his back, the donkey was doing something amazing. He would shake it off and take a step up.

As the farmer's neighbours continued to shovel dirt on top of the animal, he would shake it off and take a step up. Pretty soon, everyone was amazed as the donkey stepped up over the edge of the well and happily trotted off!

Moral of the Story :-

Life is going to shovel dirt on you, all kinds of dirt.
The trick to getting out of the well is to shake it off and take a step up. Each of our troubles is a stepping stone.
We can get out of the deepest wells just by not stopping, never giving up! Shake it off and take a step up.
